Academic Profiling Gilda L. Ochoa,2013-10-01 Today the achievement gap is hotly debated among pundits politicians and educators In particular this conversation often focuses on the two fastest growing demographic groups in the United States Asian Americans and Latinos In Academic Profiling Gilda L Ochoa addresses this so called gap by going directly to the source At one California public high school where the controversy is lived every day Ochoa turns to the students teachers and parents to learn about the very real disparities in opportunity status treatment and assumptions that lead to more than just gaps in achievement In candid and at times heart wrenching detail the students tell stories of encouragement and neglect on their paths to graduation Separated by unequal middle schools and curriculum tracking they are divided by race class and gender While those channeled into an International Baccalaureate Program boast about Socratic classes and stress release sessions students left out of such programs commonly describe uninspired teaching and inaccessible counseling Students unequally labeled encounter differential policing and assumptions based on their abilities disparities compounded by the growth in the private tutoring industry that favors the already economically privileged Despite the entrenched inequality in today s schools Academic Profiling finds hope in the many ways students and teachers are affirming identities creating alternative spaces and fostering critical consciousness When Ochoa shares the results of her research with the high school we see the new possibilities and limits of change
