A. MacAvoy, 2014-04-01 A contemporary couple journeys back in time to ancient Ireland in this delightful fantasy by the author of Tea with the Black Dragon John Thornburn is an artist mild mannered and nonviolent To make ends meet he teaches some courses in Celtic design And although his background is half Micmac Indian he lives in Ireland for two reasons his far more confrontational and warrior like girlfriend Derval O Keane and his fascination with the beautiful illuminated manuscript known as the Book of Kells But he s about to take a journey to a far more distant place one that he could not have imagined Along with Derval John will find himself in an ancient Celtic realm where a Viking attack begs to be avenged and a fantastic and sometimes terrifying adventure awaits From a master of magical fantasy the author of the Damiano Trilogy and a winner of the John W Campbell Award this is a tale of warriors love danger and Irish history that will cast a spell on anyone who dreams of discovering treasures in long lost worlds The Book of Kells Carol A. Farr, 1997 Farr shows that the complex web of allusion found in the manuscript is not mere game playing on the part of the original producers or subsequent commentators but served to integrate the contemporary audience into the historical and supernatural continuum of the heavenly and earthly church giving context and identity to the Insular role in cosmographical and salvation history The Book of Kells Peter Brown, 1980 Created in Britain and Ireland between the seventh and tenth centuries these manuscripts offer a brilliantly illuminated copy of the four Gospels with full page illustrations of Christ the Virgin and the Evangelists and a wealth of smaller decorative paintings that seem to have little to do with the sacred text 58 illustrations 48 in color The Book of Kells Bernard Meehan, 1994 The Book of Kells Iain Zaczek, 1997 Provides
