Kluiving, Erika Guttman-Bond, 2025-10-01 Researchers in landscape archaeology use two different definitions of landscape. One definition, landscape as territory, is used by the processual archaeologists, earth scientists and most historical geographers within this volume. By contrast, post-processual archaeologists, new cultural geographers and anthropologists favour a more abstract definition of landscape based on how it is perceived by the observer. Both definitions are addressed in this book with 35 papers that are presented here and that are divided into six themes: 1 How did landscape change? 2 Improving temporal, chronological and transformational frameworks. 3 Linking landscapes of lowlands with mountainous areas. 4 Applying concepts of scale. 5 New directions in digital prospection and modelling techniques. and 6 How will landscape archaeology develop in the future. This volume demonstrates a worldwide interest in landscape archaeology and the research presented here draws upon and integrates the humanities and sciences. This interdisciplinary approach is rapidly gaining support in new regions where such collaborations were previously uncommon. The Eagle and the Spade

Ronald T. Ridley, 1992-03-05 This book is an account of an almost completely neglected archaeological epic: the uncovering and restoration of all the classical monuments of Rome during the French occupation, 1809-14. This was the first large-scale archaeological programme in the city. Based on archives in Rome and Paris, the archaeology of these five years is placed against its essential background: the fate of the monuments since antiquity and the contemporary Napoleonic political and cultural history. Mr Ridley describes the enormously complicated organisation which carried out the work and identifies the leading administrators, archaeologists and architects. The bulk of the work is a detailed account of the excavation and restoration work on the Forum Romanum, the Colosseum and the Forum of Trajan, the main classical monuments. There are numerous illustrations of the monuments both before and after the French intervention, as well as unpublished plans from the archives. There is an extensive specialist index. The book is intended for anyone interested in archaeology in Napoleonic Europe and above all in Rome.
