'Gypsies' in Nineteenth-Century Children's Books Jean Kommers,2023-03-06 This literary analysis of the representation of Gypsies in juvenile literature is unique in its comparative scope as well as in the special attention to rare pre 1850 narratives the period in which juvenile literature developed as a specific genre Most studies on the subject are about one national literary tradition or confined to a limited period In this study Dutch English French and German texts are analysed and discussed with reference to main academic publications on the subject Emphasis is on the rich variation in narrative presentations rather than on an inventory of images or prejudices An important topic is the fundamental difference between early English and German narratives Important because of the wide dissemination of German stories

The Qur'an and the Aesthetics of Premodern Arabic Prose Sarah R. bin Tyeer,2016-09-10 This book approaches the Qur'an as a primary source for delineating the definition of ugliness and by extension beauty and in turn establishing meaningful tools and terms for literary criticism within the discipline of classical Arabic literature. Focusing on the aesthetic dimension of the Qur'an, this methodology opens up new horizons for reading adab by reading the tradition from within the tradition and thereby examining issues of decontextualisation and the untranslatable. This approach in turn invites Comparatists as well as Arabists to consider other means and perspectives for approaching adab besides the Bakhtinian carnival. Applying this critical strategy to literary works as diverse as One Thousand and One Nights and The Epistle of Forgiveness, Sarah R. bin Tyeer aims to prove two major points: how Bakhtin's aesthetics is anachronistic and therefore theoretically inappropriate when applied to certain literary works, and how ultimately this literary methodology is sometimes used as a proxy for ungrounded and sometimes unfair arguments by other scholars.
