Stanisław Tosza, John A. E. Vervaele, 2022-02-17 This book focuses on the enforcement aspect of tobacco control policy and argues that the intense regulation of the tobacco market will never be successful as long as it can be circumvented by the availability of illicit tobacco products Yet current efforts to combat illicit tobacco trade are insufficient suffering from several flaws and gaps at the regulatory and operational levels The aim of this book is to provide an analysis of the legal framework and practice of enforcement with regard to illicit tobacco products Combining criminological and legal perspectives it presents and critically analyses the phenomenon of illicit tobacco trade as well as the policies legal frameworks and practices in six EU countries with regard to combatting this phenomenon assessing the strengths and weaknesses of their approaches Furthermore it studies the relationship between the EU and third countries e.g. Ukraine in terms of how the EU can influence policy and enforcement in these countries in order to counter illicit tobacco trafficking Not exclusively focusing on the EU the book also includes an analysis of enforcement against illicit tobacco products in the US The EU Member States analysed in the book Belgium Germany Italy Latvia the Netherlands and Poland reflect the range of currently available approaches Some of them have ratified the WHO Protocol against tobacco smuggling others have not They belong to different legal traditions and face different challenges due to their respective border situations While Belgium and the Netherlands are key entry ports to the EU Poland and Latvia represent the Eastern land border of the EU with various regional challenges Italy has a long maritime border where trafficking is possible from Northern Africa and from the Middle East It also has significant experience in fighting organised crime Lastly Germany is the largest market in Europe and situated in the middle of these trafficking routes

WHO Technical Manual on Tobacco Tax Administration World Health Organization, 2010 Tobacco use is the single largest cause of preventable death globally killing more than five million people each year Tobacco use also creates considerable economic costs from greater spending on health care to treat the diseases it brings on in users and those exposed to tobacco smoke to the lost productivity resulting from the premature deaths it causes Of all the many interventions for reducing tobacco use a significant increase in tobacco product taxes and prices has been demonstrated to be the single most effective and cost effective intervention particularly among the poor and the young At the same time because of the inelasticity of demand for tobacco products in most countries and the low share of tax in price in many significant increases in tobacco taxes generate significant increases in the revenues generated by these taxes This technical manual aims to help governments achieve both objectives by identifying a set of best practices for tobacco taxation It documents governments existing approaches to tobacco taxation discusses barriers to using tobacco taxes to achieve health and revenue objectives and provides case studies of effective tobacco tax administration This manual is intended to be useful to tax administrators at the Ministry of Finance level by making them aware of the practices used and challenges faced by other countries It will also be useful to officials in a country's Ministry of Health or similar organizations by providing them with a more thorough understanding of key issues in tax structure and administration

Understanding the U.S. Illicit Tobacco Market National Research Council, Committee on the Illicit Tobacco Market: Collection and Analysis of the International Experience, 2015-04-30. Tobacco use has declined because of measures such as high taxes on tobacco products and bans on advertising, but worldwide there are still more than one billion people who regularly use tobacco, including many who purchase products illicitly. By contrast to many other commodities, taxes comprise a substantial portion of the retail price of cigarettes in the United States and most other nations. Large tax differentials between jurisdictions increase incentives for participation in existing illicit tobacco markets. In the United States, the illicit tobacco market consists mostly of bootlegging from low tax states to high tax states and is less affected by large scale smuggling or illegal production as in other countries. In the future, nonprice regulation of cigarettes such as product design, formulation, and packaging could, in principle, contribute to the development of new types of illicit tobacco markets. Understanding the U.S. Illicit Tobacco Market reviews the nature of illicit tobacco markets, evidence for policy effects, and variations among different countries, with a focus on implications for the United States. This report estimates the portion of the total U.S. tobacco market represented by illicit sales has grown in recent years and is now between 8.5 percent and 21 percent. This represents between 1.24 to 2.91 billion packs of cigarettes annually and between 2.95 billion and 6.92 billion in lost gross state and local tax revenues. Understanding the U.S. Illicit Tobacco Market describes the complex system associated with illicit tobacco use by exploring some of the key features of that market: the cigarette supply chain, illicit procurement schemes, the major actors in the illicit trade, and the characteristics of users of illicit tobacco. This report draws on domestic and international experiences with the illicit tobacco trade to identify a range of possible policy and enforcement interventions by the U.S. federal government and/or states and localities.

The Routledge Handbook of Smuggling Max Gallien, Florian Weigand, 2021-12-21. The Routledge Handbook of Smuggling offers a comprehensive survey of interdisciplinary research related to smuggling, reflecting on key themes and charting current and future trends. Divided into six parts and spanning over 30 chapters, the volume covers themes such as mobility, borders, violent conflict, and state politics, as well as looks at the smuggling of specific goods, from rice and gasoline to wildlife, weapons, and cocaine. Chapters engage with some of the most contentious academic and policy debates of the twenty-first century, including the historical creation of borders, rebordering, the criminalisation of migration, and the politics of selective toleration of smuggling. As it maps a field that contains unique methodological, ethical, and risk-related challenges, the book takes stock not only of the state of our shared knowledge but also reflects on how this has been produced, pointing to blind spots and providing an informed vision of the future of the field. Smoke Screen Mr. Serhan Cevik, 2016-08-26. This paper estimates the magnitude and speed of tax pass through across tobacco products at different price points in Pakistan by using a novel dataset of monthly observations on cigarette prices in 50 cities during the period 2004-2015. The pass through of cigarette taxes to retail prices is found to occur within two months but is mostly incomplete in magnitude. On average a one rupee tax increase is estimated to lead to an increase of only PKRs 0.8 in retail cigarette prices. This is driven by the fact that tobacco manufacturers absorb a significant part of the tax increase. For the premium brand however I observe full pass through indicating possibilities of different demand elasticities across product tiers. These findings are likely to be attributable to competitive market pressures especially at the budget end of the price spectrum possibly stemming from changing consumption patterns with greater awareness of health risks as well as the impact of illicit domestic production.

The Tobacco Epidemic R., Loddenkemper, M., Kreuter, 2015-03-27. This completely revised and enlarged 2nd edition of The Tobacco Epidemic provides a comprehensive update of the clinical, public health and political aspects of tobacco smoking. Since its 1st edition in 1997 knowledge on the health hazards of tobacco and nicotine addiction has increased considerably but recent data has shown that the global problem has become more aggravated in low and middle income countries if current trends continue tobacco smoking will be responsible for the deaths of 1 billion people in the 21st century. Written by outstanding international experts the book covers the history of tobacco production and use, the economics of tobacco use and control as well as the health consequences of active and passive smoking in both adults and children. Special chapters discuss the impact of media, movies and TV on tobacco consumption in young people, the patterns and predictors of smoking cessation in the general population and in different social subgroups and initiatives supported by the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control. Readers will find the latest information on how nicotine dependence is treated with nicotine replacement products, what role health care professionals play in helping smokers to quit and what effects smoke-free environments, advertising bans and price increases have on smoking prevalence. The potential harms and benefits of smokeless tobacco, waterpipe tobacco smoking and electronic cigarettes are also evaluated. This book is a must read for anyone in the medical profession who treats patients with smoking-related diseases and for those engaged in tobacco control. It will also be appreciated by interested nonmedical readers like journalists and legislators.
