Argumentative Writing in a Second Language Alan R. Hirvela, Diane Belcher, 2021-12-13 Argumentative Writing in a Second Language is a collection on teaching argumentative writing offering multiple vantage points drawn from the contributors' own teaching and research experiences The value of learning how to compose argumentative texts cannot be overstated and yet very little attention has been allocated to the equally important topic of how argumentation is or can be taught in the L2 context Thus this volume shifts attention to teachers and argumentative writing instruction especially within increasingly common multimodal and digital literacy settings While doing so it provides a comprehensive wide-ranging view of the L2 argumentative writing landscape within an instructional lens Part I of the volume is topic-oriented and focuses on explorations of important issues and perspectives while Part II features several chapters reporting classroom-based studies of a variety of instructional approaches that expand our understanding of how argumentative writing can be taught The book will be of value to pre-service and in-service teachers in varying instructional contexts as well as teacher educators and L2 writing scholars researchers

Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing Rosa M. Manchón, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2016-09-12 The Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing is an authoritative reference compendium of the theory and research on second and foreign language writing that can be of value to researchers professionals and graduate students It is intended both as a retrospective critical reflection that can situate research on L2 writing in its historical context and provide a state-of-the-art view of past achievements and as a prospective critical analysis of what lies ahead in terms of theory research and applications Accordingly the Handbook aims to provide i foundational information on the emergence and subsequent evolution of the field ii state-of-the-art surveys of available theoretical and research basic and applied insights iii overviews of research methods in L2 writing research iv critical reflections on future developments and iv explorations of existing and emerging disciplinary interfaces with other fields of inquiry

Silva,2022-08-22 This book highlights the importance of English academic vocabulary for success at university and explores written tasks as effective pedagogical tools to promote the acquisition of academic words The book reviews germane and recent SLA psycholinguistic corpus linguistics and L2 writing research to underscore the challenges associated with the learning of academic words Then it reports on three empirical studies conducted in the Polish context The first study develops a reliable tool to assess the knowledge of academic vocabulary of undergraduate learners The second and third studies investigate the learning of academic words after the writing of sentences and argumentative essays and discuss the role of cognition as a mediator of such learning The book also provides an accessible introduction to linear mixed effect models a powerful reliable and flexible statistical technique that has been gaining popularity among SLA and psycholinguistics researchers Defining and Assessing Lexical Proficiency Agnieszka Leńko-Szymańska,2019-11-05

This comprehensive account of performance based assessment of L2 lexical proficiency analyzes and compares two of the primary methods of evaluation used in the field and unpacks the ways in which they tap into different dimensions of one model of lexical competence and proficiency This book builds on the latest research on performance based assessment which has most recently pointed to the application of more quantitative measures to L2 data to systematically explore the qualitative method of using human raters in assessment exercises and the quantitative method of using automatic computation of statistical measures of lexis and phraseology Supported by an up to date review of the existing literature both approaches unique features are highlighted but also compared to one another to provide a holistic overview of performance based assessment as it stands today at both the theoretical and empirical level These findings are exemplified in a concluding chapter which summarizes results from an empirical study looking at a range of lexical and phraseological features and human raters scores of over 150 essays written by both L2 learners of English and native speakers Taken together the volume challenges existing tendencies within the field which attempt to use one method to validate one another by demonstrating their capacity to indicate very different elements of lexical proficiency thereby offering a means by which to better conceptualize performance based assessment of L2 vocabulary in the future This book will be of interest to students and researchers working in second language acquisition and applied linguistics research particularly those interested in issues around assessment vocabulary acquisition and language proficiency The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 license TOEFL Writing Task 1 -

The Routledge Handbook of Second Language Acquisition and Language Testing Paula Winke, Tineke Brunfaut, 2020-12-27. This Handbook with 45 chapters written by the world's leading scholars in second language acquisition (SLA) and language testing dives into the important interface between SLA and language testing, shared ground where researchers seek to measure second language performance to better understand how people learn their second languages. The Handbook also reviews how to best measure and evaluate the second language L2 learners' personal characteristics, backgrounds, and learning contexts to better understand their L2 learning trajectories. Taking a transdisciplinary approach to research, the book builds upon recent theorizing and measurement principles from the fields of applied linguistics, cognitive science, psychology, psycholinguistics, psychometrics, educational measurement, and social psychology. The Handbook is divided into six key sections: 1. Assessment concepts for SLA researchers; 2. Building instruments for SLA research; 3. Measuring individual differences; 4. Measuring language development; 5. Testing specific populations; and 6. Measurement principles for SLA researchers.

INVESTIGATING COMPARABILITY OF WRITING TASKS WITH PICTURE PROMPTS IN AN IN-HOUSE ENGLISH PROFICIENCY TEST YALI SHI, 2022-04-28. For security reasons, using parallel writing tasks within or across different test administrations is common practice in large scale language testing. Lack of task comparability would result in unjustified variance in test performance and consequently jeopardize test validity and fairness. Thus, it is crucial for test developers to gather empirical evidence from different aspects to substantiate the fairness argument that scores are consistent and score-based decisions are impartial across parallel tasks. Despite many studies hitherto on writing task comparability, those addressing picture prompt writing tasks in an integrated manner have remained quite underexplored. Therefore, this book investigates the comparability of five writing tasks with picture prompts randomly assigned across testing occasions in an in-house English proficiency test (EPT) of a comprehensive university from three perspectives: the scores, the texts, and the raters and test takers. Results show that task difficulty is not comparable, either in terms of some lexical, syntactic, and content features elicited or as judged by raters and test takers, which could be related with topic familiarity and conceptual clarity of the picture prompt. Yet overall task comparability is achieved in not only final scores but also score distribution and classification accuracy. The findings support the fairness argument for EPT writing and provide theoretical practical and methodological implications
