Education ,1971 Resources in Education ,1998 Power and Emotion in Infant-Toddler Day Care Robin Lynn Leavitt,1994-07-01 Robin Lynn Leavitt presents in a provocative ethnography the lived experiences of infants and toddlers in day care centers This text speaks to researchers and instructors interested in infancy early childhood socialization child care and interpretive research Leavitt s original application of multiple theoretical perspectives interpretive interactionist critical feminist and postmodern yields powerful insights into the problematic emotional experiences and relations between infants and their caregivers The day care center is described as an institution that imposes a temporal and spatial regime on the lives of infants and toddlers Vivid descriptions illustrate how caregivers create problematic situations for the children as they exercise unyielding power in the rigid management and control of the daily routines and play of children As Leavitt documents the experiences of our youngest children she engages in a philosophical exploration of the meanings of emotionally responsive empowering care in group settings Her analysis points to the need to care for caregivers and for caregiving to become a self reflective activity The Oxford Handbook of Infant, Child, and Adolescent Sleep and Behavior

Amy R. Wolfson,Hawley Montgomery-Downs,2013-11 A compendium of the state of the art for empirically based basic and applied science and treatment information about infant child and adolescent sleep and behavior for behavioral scientists educators policymakers and clinicians Early Childhood Care and Education in Canada Larry Prochner,2011-11-01 Formal programs for the care and education of young children in Canada have a history that goes back almost 200 years yet issues surrounding services for our youngest Canadians continue to be hotly contested as we begin a new century In Canada early childhood care and education are striking for their tremendous diversity on such key issues as curriculum financing and teacher education The range of programs and philosophies can be overwhelming for parents practitioners academics researchers and policy makers alike Larry Prochner and Nina Howe reflect the variation within the field by bringing together a multidisciplinary group of experts to address key issues in the field What programs are currently available and what are their origins How are adults prepared for work in these programs How do children within the programs spend their day What policies guide the programs How has the field reflected on itself through research There are no simple answers but the essays in this collection contribute to a creative reframing of the questions The authors include psychologists sociologists historians teacher educators and social policy analysts Early Childhood Care and Education in Canada will be of interest to students teachers and researchers in child study early education policy studies and history With cutbacks to early education programs a shortage of daycare spaces and uncertainty about future levels of support the time is ripe for a close examination of the services we provide for our youngest citizens Mothering and Mother(Work) in the Times of Black Lives Matter

Lamb,Kathleen J. Sternberg,Carl-Philip Hwang,Anders G. Broberg,2014-01-02 Child care is an integral part of the web of influences and experiences that shape children's development Utilizing an interdisciplinary approach that covers both historic and economic contexts this unique book characterizes child care in 18 countries on five continents Specific historical roots and the current social contexts of child care are delineated in industrialized as well as in developing countries To increase the depth of crosscultural analysis and integration commentators from countries and disciplines other than the authors comment on the issues raised in each chapter Mothering by Degrees Jillian M. Duquaine-Watson,2017-05-31 In

Mothering by Degrees Jillian Duquaine Watson shows how single mothers pursuing college degrees must navigate a difficult course as they attempt to reconcile their identities as single moms college students and in many cases employees They also negotiate a balance between what they think a good mother should be and what society is telling them and how that affects their choices to go to college and whether to stay in college or not The first book length study to focus on the lives and experiences of single mothers who are college students Mothering by Degrees points out how these women are influenced by dominant American ideologies of motherhood and the institutional parameters of the schools they attend and argues for increased attention to the specific ways in which the choices challenges and opportunities available to mothers are shaped within their specific environments as well as the ways in which mothers help shape those environments Critical

Perspectives on Early Childhood Education Lois Weis, Philip G. Altbach, Gail P. Kelly, Hugh G. Petrie, 1991-09-10 This book explores key policy issues related to early childhood education Through the contributions of various professionals in the field the editors provide a vision practical and possible of early childhood education in the 1990s Part I delves into the complex world both personal and professional of the classroom teacher The essays in Part II look at issues of the school community including the roles of class race gender and exceptionality Finally Part III examines the relationship between schools and the community at large and how complex issues find their way into social and economic policies that often stifle rather than support the democratic vision of American schools Taken as a whole the volume presents a stimulating discussion of the current state of early childhood education policy and practice
