shifted over the decades from an emphasis on hybrid transnationalism to that of a more American oriented self Socolovsky delves into texts written from 1997 to 2020 a period marked by tremendous changes in U S immigration policies amplified discourses around nationhood and an increasingly militarized border The author shows how children s and young adult books have shifted their depictions of the border personal and national identity and sovereignty For students scholars and educators of Latinx studies and children s literature this work shows how the creators of children s literature reflect new strategies for representing the undocumented Latinx child protagonist While earlier books document the child as a transnational sometimes global subject later books document her as both a transnational and U S national subject The Documented Child explores this change as a necessary survival strategy reflecting current awareness that cultural hybridity and transnational identity are not sufficient stand ins for the stability and security of legal personhood Pat Mora Hal Marcovitz,2013-11 As a young girl growing up in El Paso Texas Pat Mora felt as though she belonged to two worlds
