Special Admission Kirsten Hextrum, 2021-08-13 Honorable Mention 2022 Society of Professors of Education Outstanding Book Award Special Admission contradicts the national belief that college sports provide upward mobility opportunities Kirsten Hextrum documents how white middle class youth become overrepresented on college teams Her institutional ethnography of one elite athletic and academic institution includes over 100 hours of interviews with college rowers and track field athletes She charts the historic and contemporary relationships between colleges athletics and white middle class communities that ensure white suburban youth are advantaged in special athletic admissions Suburban youth start ahead in college admissions because athletic merit the competencies desired by university recruiters requires access to vast familial communal and economic resources all of which are concentrated in their neighborhoods Their advantages increase as youth parents and coaches strategically invest in and engineer novel opportunities to maintain their race and class status Thus college sports allow white middle class athletes to accelerate their racial and economic advantages through admission to elite universities

Teaching, Tenure, and Collegiality Mary K. Chang, 2022-02-01 Teaching Tenure and Collegiality espouses the concept of relationality the idea that people's activities necessarily emerge through contextual engagement with others as an alternative to the publish or perish ethos in higher education Building on research by comparative philosophers Mary K Chang constructs a concept of Confucian relationality and engages it to question universities increasing reliance on market oriented metrics to determine their strategic directions and gauge faculty productivity Using a process oriented approach that features change the embodied connectedness of people and the extensive impact of personal cultivation Chang situates higher educational institutions as continually constructed by people's actions in ways that cannot be wholly described or quantified and need not be Values are powerful in educational contexts because they direct how administrators faculty and students focus limited energy Teaching Tenure and Collegiality reevaluates what universities normatively value and offers a holistically expansive view that positions faculty as experts and learners whose activity is inseparable from the contexts constructed by the relationships from which they emerge
