Transgression and Transformation L. Juliana Claassens,Christl M. Maier,Funlola O. Olojede,2021-07-15 This volume on feminist postcolonial and queer biblical interpretation gathers perspectives from a global body of researchers in offering innovative interpretations of key texts from the Hebrew Bible both established and emerging biblical scholars consider the question of how commonplace interpretative practices may be considered to be transgressive in nature Utilizing innovative strategies they read against the grain of the text and in support of the marginalized the subordinated or subaltern others both in the text and in our world today Important questions regarding power and privilege are constantly raised whose voices are being heard and whose interests are being served Knowing all too well the harm that stereotypical constructions of the Other can do in terms of feeding racism sexism homophobia and imperialism in their respective interpretative communities the essays in this volume interrogate constructions of ethnicity gender sexual orientation and class both in the text as well as in their respective contexts By means of these thought provoking interpretations the contributors show their commitment not merely the sake of scholarship but to a scholarly ethos which in some shape or form contributes to the cultivation of more just equitable societies

A History of the Present Ashwin Desai,Goolam Vahed,2019-09-12 Through the long 20th century Indian South Africans lived under the whip of settler colonialism and white minority rule which saw the passing of a slew of legislation that circumscribed their freedom of movement threatened repatriation and denied them citizenship all the while herding them into racially segregated townships This volume chronicles the broad outlines of this history Taking the story into the present it provides an analysis of how Indian South Africans have responded to changes wrought by the remarkable collapse of apartheid and the holding of the first democratic elections in 1994 Drawing upon archival records in depth interviews and ethnography this study examines the ways in which Indian South Africans define themselves and the world around them and how they are defined by others It tells of the incredible journey of Indian South Africans many of whom are fourth and fifth generation towards being recognized as citizens in the land of their birth and how while often attracted by and seeking to explore their roots in India they continue to dig deeper roots in African soil

Inequality Studies from the Global South David Francis, Imraan Valodia, Edward Webster, 2020-05-04 This book offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach to thinking about inequality and to understanding how inequality is produced and reproduced in the global South Without the safety net of the various Northern welfare states inequality in the global South is not merely a socio economic problem but an existential threat to the social contract that underpins the democratic state and society itself Only a response that is firmly grounded in the context of the global South can hope to address this problem This collection brings together scholars from across the globe with a particular focus on the global South to address broad thematic areas such as the conceptual and methodological challenges of measuring inequality the political economy of inequality in the global South inequality in work households and the labour market and inequalities in land spaces and cities The book concludes by suggesting alternatives for addressing inequality in the global South and around the world The pioneering ideas and theories put forward by this volume make it essential reading for students and researchers of global inequality across the fields of sociology economics law politics global studies and development studies eThekweni's Green and Ecological Infrastructure Policy Landscape Richard Meissner, 2020-08-31 This book offers the reader a deeper understanding of the eThekweni Metropolitan Municipality's green and ecological infrastructure policy landscape The author utilises the PULSE3 analytical framework to conduct an in depth examination and to show how experts frame and implement the municipality's green and ecological infrastructure strategies and projects Although the initial purpose of this book was to investigate the role of green and ecological infrastructures in eThekweni's water security aspirations the author realised that climate change adaptation and mitigation play a more central role in motivating the municipality to develop and implement such science driven projects To be sure science that is informed by a positivist paradigm guides how where and when the municipality should develop green and ecological infrastructures Furthermore a positivistic stance is generated in this policy landscape where science and politics meet at a local government level and the book offers an insight into the science policy interface as well as the normative and value orientations that positivism often ignores The book also shows the usefulness of the PULSE3 framework and how it can assist scientists in all fields to gain a deeper understanding of the complications that are faced by humankind This book fills a market gap by providing a view of how scientists think about problems and how to solve them by using established paradigms and theories
