From Memory to Marble Elizabeth Rankin,Rolf Michael Schneider,2020-09-07 For the first time the 92 metre frieze of the Voortrekker Monument in Pretoria one of the largest historical narratives in marble has been made the subject of a book The pictorial narrative of the Boer pioneers who conquered South Africa s interior during the Great Trek 1835 52 represents a crucial period of South Africa s past Conceptualising the frieze both reflected on and contributed to the country s socio political debates in the 1930s and 1940s when it was made The book considers the active role the Monument played in the rise of Afrikaner nationalism and the development of apartheid as well as its place in post apartheid heritage The frieze is unique in that it provides rare evidence of the complex processes followed in creating a major monument Based on unpublished documents drawings and models these processes are unfolded step by step from the earliest discussions of the purpose and content of the frieze through all the stages of its design to its shipping to post war Italy to be copied into marble from Monte Altissimo up to its final installation in the Monument The book examines how visual representation transforms historical memory in what it chooses to recount and the forms in which it is depicted The second volume expands on the first by investigating each of the twenty seven scenes of the frieze in depth providing new insights into not only the frieze but also South Africa s history Fran ois van Schalkwyk of African Minds co publisher with De Gruyter writes From Memory to Marble is an open access monograph in the true sense of the word Both volumes of the digital version of the book are available in full and free of charge from the date of publication This approach to publishing democratises access to the latest scholarly publications across the globe At the same time a book such as From Memory to Marble with its unique and exquisite photographs of the frieze as well as its wealth of reproduced archival materials demands reception of a more traditional kind that is on the printed page For this reason the book is likewise available in print as two separate volumes The printed and digital books should not be seen as separate incarnations each brings its own advantages working together to extend the reach and utility of From Memory to Marble to a range of interested readers For more material you can browse at Stanford's database Voortrekker Monumentality a digital archive

Doctoral Degree Programs in Law Kenneth K. Mwenda, 2021-11-05 This book offers a critical and insightful study of various doctoral programs in law focusing on the English speaking world That the structures of doctoral degree programs in law differ between the United States and much of the Commonwealth are an issue that requires no debate What is missing in the discourse however is a narrative on how these programs are structured and how they compare This book attempts to fill that gap A key objective of the study is to provide an international and comparative analysis of the efficacy of the American and British styled models of law doctorates In so doing it provides a conceptual and theoretical framework for the development of effective doctoral programs in law contending that the defining characteristic of a doctorate is that it recognizes an independent contribution to the subject rather than the completion of taught coursework however advanced The book goes on to examine the concept of a higher doctorate in law as a possible means of strengthening the concept of a law doctorate in legal academia This book was written against the backdrop of the recently adopted Global Convention on the Recognition of Qualifications concerning higher education It was adopted by the UNESCO General Conference in Paris on November 25 2019 making it the first United Nations treaty on higher education with a global scope The target audience of the book includes scholars in higher education scholars in legal education law school deans and administrators law professors and students Ministries of Higher Education in countries around the globe accrediting agencies for doctoral studies bar admission and legal education societies and UNESCO and other international organizations

Kuwali,Frans Viljoen,2013-11-26 Situations of serious or massive violations of human rights are no longer purely of domestic concern and sovereignty can no longer be an absolute shield for repressive governments in such circumstances Based on this realization the international community has recognized a responsibility to protect individuals in states where their governments are unable or unwilling to provide protection against the most serious violations However so far only one intergovernmental organization the African Union AU has explicitly made the right to intervene in a Member State part of its foundational text in Article 4 h of its Constitutive Act Although there have been cases of Article 4 h type interventions in Africa the AU Assembly has not yet invoked Article 4 h explicitly This book brings together experts in the field to explore the potential application of Article 4 h and the complexities that may explain its non invocation so far Although Article 4 h is noble in purpose its implementation faces several legal and policy challenges given that the use of force penetrates the principles of state sovereignty and non intervention the very cornerstones upon which the AU is founded This book considers these issues as well as the need to reconcile Article 4 h in so far as it allows the AU to exercise military intervention to protect populations at risk of mass atrocities with the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations Drawing from the insights of law political science diplomacy and military strategy the book offers a unique combination of multi disciplinary expertise that harnesses the views of a diverse group of authors focused on the legal policy and practical insights on the implementation of Article 4 h and the responsibility to protect in Africa in order to provide concrete recommendations on how to end mass atrocities on the continent The African Regional Human Rights System Manisuli Ssenyonjo,2011-12-23
