Gentrification in Contemporary Fiction James Peacock, 2025-05-15 Focusing on literary representations of gentrification this book analyses twenty first century anglophone novels by authors from the United States Canada India the United Kingdom and Australia Literary texts so adept at revealing the experiences and emotions of individuals within communities are also important vehicles for exploring the complex relationships between individuals and the wider social economic and political forces that lead to urban transformations including gentrification These complexities are best revealed this book argues by proceeding from a forensic examination of characters domestic buildings and spaces Examining novels from a broad range of writers including Zadie Smith Jonathan Lethem Aravind Adiga Michael Chabon and Irvine Welsh this book makes a powerful case for the importance of literature in helping to understand the lived experience of gentrification

Shakespeare Expressed Kathryn M. Moncrief, Kathryn R. McPherson, Sarah Enloe, 2013-08-29 A collection of essays originally presented on the Blackfriars stage at the American Shakespeare Center Shakespeare Expressed brings together scholars and practitioners often promoting ideas that can be translated into classroom experiences Drawing on essays presented at the Sixth Blackfriars Conference held in October 2011 the essays focus on Shakespeare in performance by including work from scholars theatrical practitioners actors directors dramaturgs designers and teachers in a format that facilitates conversations at the intersection of textual scholarship theatrical performance and pedagogy The volume s thematic sections briefly represent some of the major issues occupying scholars and practitioners how to handle staging choices how modern actors embody early modern characters how the physical and technical aspects of early modern theaters previously impacted and how they currently affect performance and how the play texts can continue to enlighten theatrical and scholarly endeavors A special essay on pedagogy that features specific classroom exercises also anchors each section in the collection The result is an eclectic stimulating and forward thinking look at the most current trends in early modern theater studies Mingo, and Other Sketches in Black and White Joel Chandler Harris, 1884 Visible and Invisible

Edward Frederic Benson, 1924 Invisible Worlds Peter Marshall, 2017-08-17 Ever wonder if there was light after Dark Ages This history of the Church from the 15th to the 18th centuries is explored with insight and inquisition Starting with the aftermath of the Reformation this book is a must for knowing the Church s roots After a historiographical and interpretative introduction the book falls into two parts both referencing the Invisible Worlds of the title and representing different angles of vision on aspects of early modern belief that today seem particularly strange and disturbing even to believing Christians The first five chapters consider the intellectual and cultural consequences of the Reformation s assault on established beliefs about the afterlife and the experience of souls there They show how debates about the existence of purgatory and related matters such as the nature of hell fire acted as unwitting agents of modernization but also provided scope for ordinary people to practise a kind of vernacular theology The second part looks at deeply held beliefs around angels ghosts and fairies and how these were re appropriated and reimagined when cut from their traditional theological moorings The Asian Cinema Experience Stephen Teo, 2013 This book explores the range and dynamism of contemporary Asian cinemas covering East Asia China Japan South Korea Hong Kong Taiwan Southeast Asia Thailand Singapore Malaysia South Asia Bollywood and West Asia Iran in order to discover what is common about them and to engender a theory or concept of Asian Cinema It goes beyond existing work which provides a field survey of Asian cinema probing more deeply into the field of Asian Cinema arguing that Asian Cinema constitutes a separate pedagogical subject and putting forward an alternative cinematic paradigm The book covers styles including the works of classical Asian Cinema masters and specific genres such as horror films and Bollywood and Anime two very popular modes of Asian Cinema spaces including artistic use of space and perspective in Chinese cinema geographic and personal space in Iranian cinema the private erotic space of films from South Korea and Thailand and the persistence of the family unit in the urban spaces of Asian big cities in many Asian films and concepts such as Pan Asianism Orientalism Nationalism and Third Cinema The rise of Asian nations on the world stage has been coupled with a growing interest both inside and outside Asia of Asian culture of which film is increasingly an indispensable component this book provides a rich insightful overview of what exactly constitutes Asian Cinema The Spectre; Or, News from the Invisible World. A Collection of Remarkable Narratives on the Certainty of Supernatural Visitations from the Dead to the Living, Etc T. Ottway, 1836 Margaret Oliphant's Curative Gothic Literature Katerina García-Walsh, 2025-11-06 Prolific Scottish novelist Margaret Oliphant 1828 1897 remembered chiefly for her realist fiction and biting literary criticism of contemporary authors also wrote nineteen supernatural tales This monograph offers a comprehensive exploration of Oliphant's Gothic literature in the light of her religious beliefs cultural context and experiences of death and mourning as she survived her husband and all six of her children Oliphant's stories set in the afterlife depict the dead as inhabiting a new existence characterised by spiritual growth while her tales set on earth attempt contact between the mortal and immortal planes Garc a Walsh illustrates Oliphant's unique theological conception of afterliving which ultimately seeks to eradicate the divide between the living and their deceased loved ones reimagining death as a liminal passage towards God and divine self development This book thus suggests a new direction for Gothic studies by showing how Oliphant's supernatural fiction provided a means of curative writing transforming the traumatic reality of death into a source of hope The volume is suited for students researchers and academics in the disciplines of literature and history particularly the fields of nineteenth century studies Victorian studies and Gothic studies with an interest in women's writing theology and mental health trauma studies Literature and the Senses Annette Kern-Stähler, Elizabeth Robertson, 2023 This collection of essays breaks new ground in the field of sensory studies Organized around the five traditional senses followed by a section on multisensoriality the collection facilitates a dialogue between scholars working on literature written from the Middle Ages to the present day Invisible Work Efraín Kristal, 2002 It is well known that Jorge Luis Borges was a translator but this has been considered a curious minor aspect of his literary achievement Few have been aware of the number of texts he translated the importance he attached to this activity or the extent to which the translated works inform his own stories and poems Between the age of ten when he translated Oscar Wilde and the end of his life when he prepared a Spanish version of the Prose Edda Borges transformed the work of Poe Kafka Hesse Kipling Melville Gide Faulkner Whitman Woolf Chesterton and many others In a multitude of essays lectures and interviews Borges analyzed the versions of others and developed an engaging view about translation He held that a translation can improve an original that contradictory renderings of the same work can be equally valid and that an original can be unfaithful to a translation Borges's bold habits as translator and his views on translation had a decisive impact on his creative process Translation is also a recurrent motif in Borges's stories In The Immortal for example a character who has lived for many centuries regains knowledge of poems he had authored and almost forgotten by way of modern translations Many of Borges's fictions include actual or imagined translations and some of his most important characters are translators In Pierre Menard, author of the Quixote Borges's character is a respected Symbolist poet but also a translator and the narrator insists that Menard's masterpiece his invisible work adds unsuspected layers of meaning to Cervantes's Don Quixote George Steiner cites this short story as the most acute most concentrated commentary anyone has offered on the business of translation In an age where many discussions of translation revolve around the dichotomy faithful/unfaithful this book will surprise and delight even Borges's closest readers and critics

Ghosts, Landscapes and Social Memory Martyn Hudson, 2017-06-26 This book is a groundbreaking attempt to rethink the landscapes of the social world and historical practice by theorising social haunting the ways in which the social forms figures phantasms and ghosts of the past become present to us time and time again Examining the relationship between historical practices such as archaeology and archival work in order to think about how the social landscape is reinvented with reference to the ghosts of the past the author explores the literary and historical status and accounts of the ghost not for what they might tell us about these figures but for their significance for our constantly re-invented, re-vivified, re-ghosted social world. With chapters on haunted houses and castles, slave ghosts, the haunting airs of music, the prehistoric origin of spirits, Marxist spectres, Freudian revenants, and the ghosts in the machine, Ghosts, Landscapes and Social Memory adopts multi-disciplinary methods for understanding the past, the dead, and social ghosts and the landscapes they appear in. A sociology of haunting that illustrates how social landscapes have their genesis and perpetuation in haunting and the past, this volume will appeal to sociologists and social theorists with interests in memory, haunting, and culture. Seeing the Invisible James Coates, 1909
