Surfing Spaces Jon Anderson, 2022-08-04 The act of surfing involves highly skilled humans gliding, sliding or otherwise riding waves of energy as they pass through water. As this book argues, however, this act of surfing does not exist in isolation. It is defined by the cultures and geographies that synergize with it, by the places, ideas, images and other representations which at once reflect, create and commodify this spatial practice. This book innovatively explores the spaces of surf and surf riding, informed specifically by the perspective of human geography. Based on a range of critical turns within the social sciences, the book explores the locations, relational sensibilities and transformative nature of surfing spaces and examines how the spatial practice has been scripted by dominant surfing cultures. The book details how prescriptive borders of access, entitlement and marginalization have been created and how, with the advent of new craft media and ideals, they are
