3.1416 And All That DAVIS,CHINN,2012-12-06 LYTTON STRACHEY tells the following story In intervals of relaxation from his art the painter Degas used to try his hand at writing sonnets One day while so engaged he found that his inspiration had run dry In desperation he ran to his friend Mallarme who was a poet My poem won't come out he said and yet I'm full of excellent ideas My dear Degas Mallarme retorted poetry is not written with ideas it is written with words If we seek an application of Mallarme's words to mathematics we find that we shall want to turn his paradox around We are led to say that mathematics does not consist of formulas it consists of ideas What is platitudinous about this statement is that mathematics of course consists of ideas Who but the most unregenerate formalist asserting that mathematics is a meaningless game played with symbols would deny it What is paradoxical about the statement is that symbols and formulas dominate the mathematical page and so one is naturally led to equate mathematics with its formulas Contemporary Fixed
