author's search for a secular way of being that is meaningful, mindful and reverent. Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa Francis Musoni, 2020-04-07 With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe, the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world. As border crossers wait for clearance, crime, violence and illegal entries have become rampant. Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this, including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices. Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality. He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders, why passports are denied to travelers and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history, especially in Africa. Musoni emphasizes cross-border travelers' active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk.

The Turning Coin Minga Mbweck Kongo, 2025-07-25 Minga Mbweck Kongo's The Turning Coin is a profound and deeply moving memoir that transcends borders to explore themes of resilience, identity and belonging in the face of adversity. From a childhood shaped by the vibrant mining city of Musoshi in the DRC to navigating the complexities of migration in South Africa, Kongo shares a raw and evocative personal narrative. Through a series of powerful anecdotes, from working as a car guard facing dehumanisation and xenophobia to volunteering for emergency medical services, witnessing profound human suffering, Kongo grapples with fundamental questions of existence, purpose and the meaning of being human. His journey is marked by unexpected encounters, both challenging and supportive, that shape his understanding of himself and the world. The book delves into the impact of political upheaval, family displacement and personal health struggles, illustrating how every experience, good or bad, contributes to one's unique personal or life experience. The Turning Coin is a testament to the enduring power of the human spirit, emphasising that incompleteness is not an obstacle but an opportunity for growth, creativity and connection. This compelling meditation on life's contradictions and the continuous process of becoming will touch your heart and spirit deeply. A profound meditation on resilience, identity and belonging, The Turning Coin is a compelling personal narrative that transcends borders and speaks to the universal human experience. Minga Kongo's evocative storytelling captures the struggle of migration, the quest for meaning and the embrace of incompleteness as a defining aspect of our existence. A remarkable and deeply moving read.

Prof Kurt April, Allan Gray Chair, University of Cape Town. Minga's authentic voice expresses his realities with passion and dignity. His memoir is peppered with philosophical insights which lend weight to his writing. Always aware of his incompleteness, he strives for mobility to fill out his being through journeying inwards and outwards. A poignant story that will touch your heart and spirit deeply.

Val Bruce, author of Desert Secrets and Zukile, an African fairy tale in The Kalahari Review. This ambitious memoir signals a celebration of triumph over adversity, faith over despair and the amplification of voices and issues often excluded or ignored in the South
