This volume engages with the work of Heidegger to argue that the modern environmental crisis is fundamentally a crisis of understanding Life resulting from the symbolic codification of the world from the Logos of Greek philosophy to the rationality of the modern world and resulting in a metaphysics that privileges ontological thinking on the question of being over the environmental question and the concern for the conditions of life Exploring the work of the three principal thinkers of the Lebensphilosophie Bergson Dilthey and Husserl it charts the itinerary of Heidegger's work and exposes its conflicts with the work of Marx Plessner Haar and Derrida A critical argument against the colonization of the world by Eurocentric reason and for the deconstruction of Capital Heidegger in the Face of the Environmental Question draws on Latin American environmental thought to re think the conditions for life on Earth It will therefore appeal to scholars of philosophy political theory and political sociology with interests in environmental philosophy political ecology and socioeconomic transformation

Against Creative Writing Andrew Cowan, 2022-09-13 The rise of Creative Writing has been accompanied from the start by two questions can it be taught and should it be taught This scepticism is sometimes shared even by those who teach it who often find themselves split between two contradictory identities the artistic and the academic Against Creative Writing explores the difference between writing which is what writers do and Creative Writing which is the instrumentalisation of what writers do Beginning with the question of whether writing can or ought to be taught it looks in turn at the justifications for BA MA and PhD courses and concludes with the divided role of the writer who teaches It argues in favour of Creative

Writing as a form of hands on literary education at undergraduate level and a form of literary apprenticeship at graduate level especially in widening access to new voices It argues against those forms of Creative Writing that lose sight of literary values as seen in the proliferation of curricular couplings with non literary subjects or the increasing emphasis on developing skills for future employment Against Creative Writing written by a writer is addressed to other writers inside or outside the academy at undergraduate or graduate level whether creative or critical

Poetry and the Question of Modernity Ian Cooper, 2020-01-15 Interest in Martin Heidegger was recently reawakened by the revelations in his newly published Black Notebooks of the full terrible extent of his political commitments in the 1930s and 1940s The revelations reminded us of the dark allegiances co existing with one of the profoundest and most important philosophical projects of the twentieth century one that is of incomparable importance for literature and especially for poetry which Heidegger saw as embodying a receptiveness to Being and a resistance to the instrumental tendencies of modernity Poetry and the Question of Modernity From Heidegger to the Present is the first extended account of the relationship between Heidegger's philosophy and the modern lyric It argues that some of the best known modern poets in German and English from Paul Celan to Seamus Heaney and Les Murray are in deep imaginative affinity with Heidegger's enquiry into finitude language and Being But the work of each of these poets challenges Heidegger because each appeals to a transcendence taking place in language that is inseparable from the motion of encounter with embodied others It is thus poetry which reveals the full measure of Heidegger's relevance in redefining modern selfhood and poetry which reveals the depth of his blindness

Continental Philosophy and the Palestinian Question Zahi Zalloua, 2017-02-23 From Sartre to Levinas continental philosophers have looked to the example of the Jew as the paradigmatic object of and model for ethical inquiry Levinas for example powerfully dedicates his 1974 book Otherwise than Being to the victims of the Holocaust and turns attention to the state of philosophy after Auschwitz Such an ethics radically challenges prior notions of autonomy and comprehension two key ideas for traditional ethical theory and more generally the Greek tradition It seeks to respect the opacity of the other and avoid the dangers of hermeneutic violence But how does such an ethics of the other translate into real everyday life What is at stake in thinking the other as Jew Is the alterity of the Jew simply a counter to Greek universalism Is a rhetoric of exceptionalism with its unavoidable ontological residue at odds with shifting political realities Within this paradigm what then becomes of the Arab or Muslim the other of the Jew the other of the other so to speak This line of ethical thought in its desire to bear witness to past suffering and come to terms with subjectivity after Auschwitz arguably brackets from analysis present operations of power Would then a more sensitive historical approach expose the Palestinian as the other of the Israeli Here Zahi Zalloua offers a challenging intervention into how we configure the contemporary
