Mitchell, 2008-07-01 On the centennial of Joseph Mitchell's birth here is a new edition of the classic collection containing his most celebrated pieces about New York City Fifty years after its original publication The Bottom of the Harbor is still considered a fundamental New York book Every story Mitchell tells every person he introduces every scene he describes is illuminated by his passion for the eccentrics and eccentricities of his beloved adopted city All of the pieces here are connected in one way or another some directly some with a kind of mysterious circuitousness to New York's fabled waterfront the terrain that Mitchell brilliantly made his own They tell of a life that has passed of vacant hotel rooms deserted communities once thriving fishing areas that are now polluted and studded with wrecks Included are Up in the Old Hotel a portrait of Louis Morino the proprietor of a restaurant called to his disgust Sloppy Louie's The Rats on the Waterfront which has inspired countless writers to attempt portraits of these most demonized New Yorkers and Mr Hunter's Grave widely considered to be the finest single piece of nonfiction to have ever appeared in the pages of The New Yorker Here is the essential work of a legendary writer The Fulton Fish Market Jonathan H. Rees, 2022-11-01 The Fulton Fish Market stands out as an iconic New York institution At first a neighborhood retail market for many different kinds of food it became the nation's largest fish and seafood wholesaling center by the late nineteenth century Waves of immigrants worked at the Fulton Fish Market and then introduced the rest of the city to their seafood traditions In popular culture the market celebrated by Joseph Mitchell in The New Yorker conjures up images of the bustling East River waterfront late night fishmongering organized crime and a vanished working class New York This book is a lively and comprehensive history of the Fulton Fish Market from its founding in 1822 through its move to the Bronx in 2005 Jonathan H Rees explores the market's workings and significance tracing the transportation retailing and consumption of fish He tells the stories of the people and institutions that depended on the Fulton Fish Market including fishermen retail stores restaurants and chefs and shows how the market affected what customers in New York and around the country ate Rees examines transformations in food provisioning systems through the lens of a vital distribution point arguing that the market's wholesale dealers were innovative businessmen who adapted to technological change in a dynamic industry He also explains how changes in the urban landscape and economy affected the history of the market and the surrounding neighborhood Bringing together economic technological urban culinary and environmental history this book demonstrates how the Fulton Fish Market shaped American cuisine commerce and culture

Irish-American Autobiography James Silas Rogers, 2017-01-27 This lively survey of the ever changing Irish American experience contains many perceptive and sometimes surprising observations The Irish Times Irish American Autobiography explores the evolution of Irishness in America through memoirs that describe define and redefine what it means to be Irish From athletes and entertainers to saloon keepers community activists and Catholic priests Irish Americans of all stripes share their thoughts and perceptions on their ever evolving ethnic identity Poet and Irish studies specialist James Silas Rogers begins his evocative analysis with celebrity memoirs by athletes like boxer John L Sullivan and ballplayer Connie Mack written when the Irish were eager to put their raffish origins behind them Later he traces the many tensions registered by lesser known Irish Americans who've told their life stories South Boston step dancers set themselves against the larger culture framing their identity as outsiders looking in Even the classic 1950s sitcom The Honeymooners speaks to the poignant sense of exclusion felt by its creator Jackie Gleason Rogers also examines the changing role of Catholicism as a cultural touchstone for Irish Americans and examines the painful diffidence of priest autobiographers Irish American Autobiography becomes in the end a story of a continued search for connection documenting an ethnic fade that never quite happened

The Whole Machinery Ben Child, 2019 A familiar story holds that modernization radiates out from metropolitan origins The whole machinery explores representations of people and places objects and occasions that reverse that trajectory demonstrating how modernizing agents move in a contrary direction as well from the country to city In a crucial reversal these figures aren't pulled by or into urban modernity so much as they bring alternate and transformative iterations of the modern to the urban world This book upends the U S South's reputation as retrograde and unresponsive to modernity by showing how the effects of national and transnational exchange particularly via the cotton trade emergent technologies and industrialization animate environments and bodies associated with or performing versions of the rural To this end it also searches out the shadow side of the cosmopolitan modern by investigating the rural sources the laboring bodies and raw materials that made such urban spaces possible The whole machinery explores a range of canonical and noncanonical figures Paul Laurence Dunbar Frances E W Harper W E B Du Bois Allen Tate Don West the authors of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union pamphlet The Disinherited Speak Charlie Poole and Zora Neale Hurston among them It uncovers signs of the rural modern in a variety of texts and media including narrative fiction and poetry as well as photographs sound recordings radio broadcasts letters newspaper reports and magazine profiles These readings convey diverse and individuated desires for escape or entrenchment often in the same conflicted voice ultimately creating multivalent expressions and experiences of rurality that are in their way as thoroughly modern as those of more widely canonized urban figures

Darwin's Law Elaine Hatfield, Richard L Parson, 2003-07 Calli Guerrero Waite faces a wrenching moral dilemma Caught in a painful marriage she sees a new life opening up for her when she has an affair with Jake Sanchez Ready to divorce her anthropologist husband circumstances abruptly alter Conscience calls her one way love another The way that Calli and Jake confront the pull of conscience the dictates of Calli's powerful husband the scorn of family and friends and a concern for her two sons forms the crux of Darwin's Law

South Street Barbara Mensch, 2009-11-26 South Street is Barbara G Mensch's evocative tribute to the lost world of Lower Manhattan's Fulton Fish Market For more than a century a colorful tightly knit community of fishmongers many of them recent immigrants and children of immigrants thrived under the base of the Brooklyn Bridge Resistant to government regulations and corporate encroachment these men lived in a closed internally policed world that was deeply hostile to outsiders As a young photographer in the early 1980s Mensch bonded with this particular group of authentic New Yorkers becoming a confidante for their life stories which were often filled with hardship mystery and misadventures These striking photographs capture the unique personality and fierce secrecy of their vibrant working class culture Combined with lively commentary reminiscent of Studs Terkel's riveting oral histories the images offer a rare peek inside a society described by Philip Lopate as a precious last vestige of historic Gotham Mensch's story ends with the closure of the docks and the opening of the Seaport mall a symbolic victory of corporate interests over more than a century of mob rule Her visual essay recounts the driving forces and the effects of this urban transformation on the entrenched community of fishmongers creating an enduring historical document Though the Fulton Fish Market no longer resides below the Brooklyn Bridge the history and energy of this cherished New York City landmark are beautifully
