The Whole Machinery Ben Child, 2019 A familiar story holds that modernization radiates out from metropolitan origins The whole machinery explores representations of people and places objects and occasions that reverse that trajectory demonstrating how modernizing agents move in a contrary direction as well from the country to city In a crucial reversal these figures aren't pulled by or into urban modernity so much as they bring alternate and transformative iterations of the modern to the urban world This book upends the U S South's reputation as retrograde and unresponsive to modernity by showing how the effects of national and transnational exchange particularly via the cotton trade emergent technologies and industrialization animate environments and bodies associated with or performing versions of the rural To this end it also searches out the shadow side of the cosmopolitan modern by investigating the rural sources the laboring bodies and raw materials that made such urban spaces possible The whole machinery explores a range of canonical and noncanonical figures Paul Laurence Dunbar Frances E W Harper W E B Du Bois Allen Tate Don West the authors of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union pamphlet The Disinherited Speak Charlie Poole and Zora Neale Hurston among them It uncovers signs of the rural modern in a variety of texts and media including narrative fiction and poetry as well as photographs sound recordings radio broadcasts letters newspaper reports and magazine profiles These readings convey diverse and individuated desires for escape or entrenchment often in the same conflicted voice ultimately creating multivalent expressions and experiences of rurality that are in their way as thoroughly modern as those of more widely canonized urban figures

Before Busing Zebulon Vance Miletsky, 2022-11-29 In many histories of Boston African Americans have remained almost invisible Partly as a result when the 1972 crisis over school desegregation and busing erupted many observers professed shock at the overt racism on display in the cradle of liberty Yet the city has long been divided over matters of race and it was also home to a far older Black organizing tradition than many realize A community of Black activists had fought segregated education since the origins of public schooling and racial inequality since the end of northern slavery Before Busing tells the story of the men and women who struggled and demonstrated to make school desegregation a reality in Boston It reveals the legal efforts and battles over tactics that played out locally and influenced the national Black freedom struggle And the book gives credit to the Black organizers parents and children who fought long and hard battles for justice that have been left out of the standard narratives of the civil rights movement What emerges is a clear picture of the long and hard fought campaigns to break the back of Jim Crow education in the North and make Boston into a better more
