The Volta Review , 1917 The Power of Human Imagination Jerome L. Singer, Kenneth S. Pope, 2012-12-06 For at least half of the twentieth century psychology and the other mental health professions all but ignored the significant adaptive possibilities of the human gift of imagery Our capacity seemingly to duplicate sights sounds and other sensory experiences through some form of central brain process continues to remain a mysterious almost miraculous skill Because imagery is so much a private experience experimental psychologists found it hard to measure and turned their attention to observable behaviors that could easily be studied in animals as well as in humans Psychoanalysts and others working with the emotionally disturbed continued to take imagery information seriously in the form of dream reports transference fantasies and as indications of hallucinations or delusions On the whole however they emphasized the maladaptive aspects of the phenomena the distortions and defensiveness or the regressive qualities of daydreams and sequences of images The present volume grows out of a long series of investigations by the senior author that have suggested that daydreaming and the stream of consciousness are not simply manifestations in adult life of persisting phenomena of childhood Rather the data suggest that imagery sequences represent a major system of encoding and transforming information a basic human capacity that is inevitably part of the brain's storage process and one that has enormous potential for adaptive utility A companion volume The Stream of Consciousness edited by Kenneth S Pope and Jerome L It's not all about you Bettina Kluge, María Irene Moyna, 2019-11-15 The twenty first century has seen a surge in cross linguistic research on forms of address from increasingly diverse and complementary perspectives The present edited collection is the inaugural volume of Topics in Address Research a series that aims to reflect that growing interest The volume includes an overview followed by seventeen chapters organized in five sections covering new methodological and theoretical approaches variation and change address in digital and audiovisual media nominal address and self and third person reference This collection includes work on Cameroonian French Czech Dutch English from the US UK Australia and Canada Finnish Italian Mongolian Palenquero Creole Portuguese Slovak and Spanish in its Peninsular and American varieties By presenting the work in English the book offers a bridge among researchers in different language families It will be of interest to pragmatists sociolinguists typologists and anyone focused on the emergence and evolution of this central aspect of verbal communication Computational Models of Argument Francesco Santini, Carlo Taticchi, 2020-09-15 The investigation of computational models of argument is a rich and fascinating interdisciplinary research field with two ultimate aims the theoretical goal of understanding argumentation as a cognitive phenomenon by modeling it in computer programs and the practical goal of supporting the development of computer based systems able to engage in argumentation related activities with human users or among themselves The biennial International Conferences on Computational Models of Argument COMMA provide a dedicated forum for the presentation and discussion of the latest advancements in the field and cover both basic research and innovative applications This book presents the proceedings of COMMA 2020 Due to the Covid 19 pandemic COMMA 2020 was held as an online event on the originally scheduled dates of 8-11 September 2020 organised by the University of Perugia Italy The book includes 28 full papers and 13 short papers selected from a total of 78 submissions the abstracts of 3 invited talks and 13 demonstration abstracts The interdisciplinary nature of the field is reflected and contributions cover both theory and practice Theoretical contributions include new formal models the study of formal or computational properties of models designs for implemented systems and experimental research Practical papers include applications to medicine law and criminal investigation chatbots and online product reviews The argument mining trend from previous COMMA's is continued while an emerging trend this year is the use of argumentation for explainable AI The book provided an overview of the latest work on computational models of argument and will be of interest to all those working in the field Catechetical Sessions on Liturgy and the Sacraments Therese Brown, 2004 Catechetical Sessions on Liturgy and the Sacraments begins by familiarizing participants with the nature of liturgy and the liturgical year An introduction to the properties of signs symbols and rituals sets the groundwork for studying individual sacraments Four sessions address the sacraments of initiation two sessions cover the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick and the final session covers the sacraments at the service of Communion The sessions share some of the history of the sacraments their meaning the significance of symbols and the nature of the rites The participants are invited to actively study the sacraments to make connections between the sacraments and their own lives to reflect prayerfully on the meaning of the sacraments and to take some sacrament related actions
