Stories Of Passion English Edition:

The Orthodox Church in the Arab World, 700-1700 Samuel Noble, Alexander Treiger, 2014-03-15 All of the texts chosen for this volume are interesting in their own right but the collection of these sources into a single volume with helpful introductions and bibliographies makes this book an invaluable resource for the study of Arabic Christianity and indeed the history of Christianity more broadly Hugoye Journal of Syriac Studies Arabic was among the first languages in which the Gospel was preached The Book of Acts mentions Arabs as being present at the first Pentecost in Jerusalem where they heard the Christian message in their native tongue Christian literature in Arabic is at least 1 300 years old the oldest surviving texts dating from the 8th century Pre modern Arab Christian literature embraces such diverse genres as Arabic translations of the Bible and the Church Fathers biblical commentaries lives of the saints theological and polemical treatises devotional poetry philosophy medicine and history Yet in the Western historiography of Christianity the Arab Christian Middle East is treated only peripherally if at all The first of its kind this anthology makes accessible in English representative selections from major Arab Christian works written between the eighth and eighteenth centuries The translations are idiomatic while preserving the character of the original The popular assumption is that in the wake of the Islamic conquests Christianity abandoned the Middle East to flourish elsewhere leaving its original heartland devoid of an indigenous Christian presence Until now several of these important texts have remained unpublished or unavailable in English Translated by leading scholars these texts represent the major genres of Orthodox literature in Arabic Noble and Treiger provide an introduction that helps form a comprehensive history of Christians within the Muslim world The collection marks an important contribution to the history of medieval Christianity and the history of the medieval Near East Transformations of Religious Practices in Late Antiquity Eric Rebillard, 2024-08-01 The eighteen papers collected in this volume fifteen of which are published in English for the first time explore the transformations of religious practices between the third and the fifth centuries in the Western part of the Roman Empire They share an approach that privileges the study of processes and interactions and does not take for granted the categories and roles traditionally ascribed to social actors A first group of papers focuses on the sermons and letters of Augustine of Hippo These texts are precious evidence for balancing the clerical perspective that characterizes most of our sources and can thus shed a different light on the problem of Christianization The second group collects papers that propose to shift attention from the construction of heresies to that of orthodoxy through the case study of the controversy of Augustine against Pelagius and Julian of Eclanum A last group presents studies that look at the complex relation between burial and religion with a particular focus on the role played by the church in the organization of the burial of Christians in Late Antiquity Passion for History Natalie Zemon Davis, Denis Crouzet, 2010-02-01 The pathbreaking work of renowned historian Natalie Zemon Davis has added profoundly to our understanding of early modern society and culture She rescues men and women from oblivion using her unique combination of rich imagination keen intelligence and archival sleuthing to uncover the past Davis brings to life a dazzling cast of extraordinary people revealing their thoughts emotions and choices in the world in which they lived Thanks to Davis we can meet the impostor Arnaud du Tilh in her classic The Return of Martin Guerre follow three remarkable lives in Women on the Margins and journey alongside a traveler and scholar in Trickster Travels as he moves between the Muslim and Christian worlds In these conversations with Denis Crouzet professor of history at the Sorbonne and well known specialist on the French Wars of Religion Natalie Zemon Davis examines the practices of history and controversies in historical method Their discussion reveals how Davis has always pursued the thrill and joy of discovery through historical research Her quest is influenced by growing up Jewish in the Midwest as a descendant of emigrants from Eastern Europe She recounts how her own life as a citizen a woman and a scholar compels her to ceaselessly examine and transcend received opinions and certitudes Davis reminds the reader of the broad possibilities to be found by studying the lives of those who came before us and teaches us how to give voice to what was once silent

Pepysian Meditations on the Passion of Christ Mayumi Taguchi, Yoko Iyeiri, 2019-05-07 The Middle English prose Pepysian Meditations on the Passion of Christ PMPC survives uniquely in Cambridge Magdalene College MS Pepys 2125 and has not previously been published It is one of several Middle English translations of the Passion sequence of the pseudo Bonaventuran Latin Meditationes Vitae Christi MVC This part of the MVC circulated independently and in this form is known in modern scholarship as the Meditationes de Passione Christi MPC The editors argue that although the Middle English version in Pepys 2125 followed the model of the MPC it is probable that the translation derives directly from a recension of the MPC Although the translator handles the original with a degree of freedom the text is not indebted to other sources The Introduction includes an extensive description of the manuscript which is a late medieval devotional miscellany and a detailed account of the language of the PMPC It also addresses the textual tradition out of which the PMPC grew and the work of the translator The edited text is followed by a commentary glossary and bibliography

The Passion of Pedro Almodóvar James Miller, 2025-04-29 The films of Pedro Almodóvar teem with characters who at once are and are not alter egos of the director In film after film the Spanish auteur mines his past for alternative selves telling and retelling formative stories from his own life plumbing the depths of his memory while exploring other lives he might have led What can Almodóvar's work tell us about the quest for self knowledge for understanding who we are and who we might yet become James Miller considers seven of Almodóvar's most personal films arguing that together they offer a revealing self portrait of the director and his search for meaning Beginning with Volver Miller traces Almodóvar's signature obsessions backward and forward through the director's filmography Deeply shaped by the counterculture of the 1960s which arrived belatedly in Franco's Spain Almodóvar has long been fascinated by the exhilarating power and devastating limitations of artistic and sexual transgression In rich readings Miller shows how Almodóvar tests the blurry line between fiction and reality the bounds of individual freedom and the durability of a sense of self In so doing the director turns cinema into a form of philosophical investigation and self exploration A keenly observed masterfully written portrait of one of world cinema's greatest creative forces The Passion of Pedro Almodóvar finds in film new ways to tell the story of a life

The Gift of Beauty and the Passion of Being William Desmond, 2018-07-06 This book gathers a set of reflections on the gift of beauty and the passion of being There is something surprising about beauty that we receive and that moves the passion of being in us The book takes issue with an ambiguous attitude to beauty among some who proclaim their advanced aesthetic authenticity Beauty seems bland and lacks the more visceral thrill of the ugly indeed the excremental We crave what disrupts and provokes us not what gives delight or even consoles By contrast attention is given to how beauty arouses enigmatic joy in us and we enjoy an elemental rapport with it as other Surprised by beauty our breath is taken away but we are more truly there with the beautiful when we are taken outside of ourselves We are first receivers of the gift of surprise and only then perceivers and conceivers My attention to the passion of being stresses a patience a receptivity to what is other What happens is not first our construction There is something given something awakening something delighting something energizing something of invitation to transcendence The theme is amplified in diverse reflections on life and its transient beauty on soul music and its relation to self on the shine on things given in creation on beauty and Schopenhauer s dark origin on creativity and the dynamis in Paul Weiss s creative ventures on redemption in Romanticism in the thought of Stanley Cavell on theater as a between or metaxu on redeeming laughter and its connection with the passion of being

Passion Narratives and Gospel Theologies Frank Matera, 2001-06-28 Although the passion narratives of the synoptic gospels can be read as free standing narrative each one of them is the goal and climax of the Gospel story that precedes it In Passion Narratives and Gospel Theologies Frank Matera describes the intimate relationship between the theology of each of the synoptic gospels and its passion narrative Matera s study of the Markan passion narrative in light of the Gospel s theology shows that no one can confess that Jesus is the Son of God until he or she acknowledges Jesus as the crucified Messiah and no one can be Jesus disciple unless he or she accepts the scandal of the cross While the Gospel of Matthew continues to develop the great themes of Mark s gospel Matera argues that its passion narrative manifests a distinctive ecclesiological and ethical outlook in light of its unique gospel theology Finally Matera demonstrates how the Lukan passion narrative by presenting Jesus as a model of innocent suffering also contains a distinctive outlook in light of its gospel

J. S. Bach's Material and Spiritual Treasures Noelle M. Heber, 2021 An innovative study of the ways in which theological themes related to earthly and heavenly treasures and Bach's own apparent attentiveness to the spiritual values related to money intertwined in his sacred music In Johann Sebastian Bach's Lutheran church setting various biblical ideas were communicated through sermons and songs to encourage parishioners to emulate Christian doctrine in their own lives Such narratives are based on an understanding that one's lifetime on earth is a temporal passageway to eternity after death where souls are sent either to heaven or hell based on one's belief or unbelief Throughout J S Bach's Material and Spiritual

Treasures Bach scholar Noelle M Heber explores theological themes related to earthly and heavenly treasures in Bach's sacred music through an examination of selected texts from Bach's personal theological library. The book's storyline is organized around biblical concepts that are accented in Lutheran thought and in Bach's church compositions such as the poverty and treasure of Christ and parables that contrast material and spiritual riches. While focused primarily on the greater theological framework, Heber presents an updated survey of Bach's own financial situation and considers his apparent attentiveness to spiritual values related to money. This multifaceted study investigates intertwining biblical ideologies and practical everyday matters in a way that features both Bach's religious context and his humanity. This book will appeal to musicologists, theologians, musicians, students, and Bach enthusiasts. Literary News, 1891 New Hope Noel L. Griesse, 2003. More people die annually of lung cancer in the United States than of breast, prostate, and colon cancer combined, notes Noel Griesse, author of New Hope: Avoiding Lung Cancer. Griesse's book, written for the 90 million past and present smokers in the U.S., presents sobering facts, including the statistic that smoking shortens the lives of American females by 14.5 years and males by 13.2 years. While lung cancer is the most deadly form of cancer, it is also the most preventable, Griesse says. He details lifestyle changes that greatly reduce risk. Prominent among these is to quit smoking. The book offers detailed information about how to do that. The author also details exercise and nutrient regimens that reduce cancer risk. Griesse, editor of Current CancerNews newsletter, is a past state director of the American Lung Association and American Cancer Society and has been a state chairman of the Great American Smokeout. His book attracted favorable prepublication and reviews in a wide variety of media, including the Los Angeles Times, CBS MarketWatch, the Dallas Morning News, Women's Cancer Network, and Seattle Times. The author is now involved in a national radio and television promotion campaign for the book.
