Congress, 1911 Beijing from Below Harriet Evans, 2020-05-01 Between the early 1950s and the accelerated demolition and construction of Beijing s old city in preparation for the 2008 Olympics the residents of Dashalar one of the capital city s poorest neighborhoods and only a stone s throw from Tian anmen Square lived in dilapidated conditions without sanitation Few had stable employment Today most of Dashalar s original inhabitants have been relocated displaced by gentrification In Beijing from Below Harriet Evans captures the last gasps of subaltern life in Dashalar Drawing on oral histories that reveal memories and experiences of several neighborhood families she reflects on the relationships between individual family neighborhood and the state poverty and precarity gender politics and ethical living and resistance to and accommodation of party state authority Evans contends that residents assertion of belonging to their neighborhood signifies not a nostalgic clinging to the past but a rejection of their marginalization and a desire for recognition Foregrounding the experiences of the last of Dashalar s older denizens as key to understanding Beijing s recent history Evans complicates official narratives of China s economic success while raising crucial questions about the place of the subaltern in history The Story of a Life J. Breckenridge Ellis, 2022-08-10 The nurse was speaking of little Mattie Myers who lived in the old Kentucky town of Stanford The child was seldom to be seen engaged in those sports natural to children She was grave quiet thoughtful Her one amusement was found in her family of dolls she was always their teacher and they were daily going to school to her For companions she chose those who were much older than herself and she would sit by the hour soberly listening to theological discussion weighing in her infant mind the arguments of learned men Her mother was dead but Mattie could recall her sympathetic touch and tender smile It seemed to her that out of the shadow of death her life had emerged to be clouded by new losses One after the other her two sisters were taken from her Then the brother who was her only intimate companion went to another town to teach school Mattie found herself the only young person in the large house of her wealthy father Of course she received all care her slightest wishes were granted the love of her widowed father was doubly hers because of his
