Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich,Adri Sauerman,2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement In 1994 as the country s apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency the South African Police Service SAPS that would provide unbiased policing to all the country s people More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity This book offers a unique perspective by providing in depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy Using the organizational theory of police integrity the book analyzes the complex set of historical legal political social and economic circumstances shaping police integrity A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules their expectations of discipline within the SAPS and their willingness to report misconduct The book also examines the influence of the respondents race gender and supervisory status on police integrity Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology political science as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations

Gender-Based Violence and Femicide in South Africa Tameshnie Deane,2024-06-27 This book presents new perspectives on gender based violence GBV in South Africa It argues that violence against women is a manifestation of unequal gender relations and harmful manifestations of hegemonic masculinity which are governed by patriarchal beliefs institutions and systems It includes chapters on quantitative research that assess not only the levels and determinants of violence against women but also men s attitudes towards gender based violence perceptions of violence the legislative frameworks governing violence against women in South Africa and the current cases and jurisprudence relating to this scourge In spite of its focus on South Africa the book also provides insights for comparative scholars exploring the value of different constitutional

articulations of human rights and how they support or fail to support efforts to combat violence against women By assessing recent incidents and responses to gender based violence the book provides a view of not only the societal but also jurisprudential opportunities and pitfalls in this area that may be applicable elsewhere Gender equality and central to this the right of women to live lives free of violence is a precondition for full democratic participation and is a universal goal Accordingly the South African experience contributes to a wider understanding of the possibilities and limitations of societal and legal reform in challenging the ubiquity of violence against women The book is aimed at researchers practitioners students professionals and advocates in the field of gender based violence Report of the Commissioner of the South African Police South African Police,1918 Global Perspectives of Occupational Social Work Paul Maiden,2013-04-03

Black Tax Niq Mhlongo,2019-09-12 The real significance of this book lies in the fact that it tells us more about the everyday life of black South Africans It delves into the essence of black family life and the secret anguish of family members who often battle to cope Niq Mhlongo A secret torment for some a proud responsibility for others black tax is a daily reality for thousands of black South Africans In this thought provoking and moving anthology a provocative range of voices share their deeply personal stories With the majority of black South Africans still living in poverty today many black middle class households are connected to working class or jobless homes Some believe supporting family members is an undeniable part of African culture and question whether it should even be labelled as a kind of tax Others point to the financial pressure it places on black students and professionals who as a consequence struggle to build their own wealth Many feel they are taking over what is essentially a government responsibility The contributions also investigate the historical roots of black tax the concept of the black family and the black middle class In giving voice to so many different perspectives Black Tax hopes to start a dialogue on this widespread social phenomenon

After Dictatorship Peter Hoeres,Hubertus Knabe,2023-02-20 Numerous studies concerning transitional justice exist However comparatively speaking the effects actually achieved by measures for coming to terms with dictatorships have seldom been investigated There is an even greater lack of transnational analyses This volume contributes to closing this gap in research To this end it analyses processes of coming to terms with the past in seven countries with different experiences of violence and dictatorship Experts have drawn up detailed studies on transitional justice in Albania Argentina Ethiopia Chile Rwanda South Africa and Uruguay Their analyses constitute the empirical material for a comparative study of the impact of measures introduced within the context of transitional justice It becomes clear that there is no sure formula for dealing with dictatorships Successes and deficits alike can be observed in relation to the individual instruments of transitional justice from criminal prosecution to victim compensation Nevertheless the South American states perform much better than those on the African continent This depends less on the instruments used than on political and social factors Consequently strategies of transitional justice should focus more closely on these contextual factors
