Graham, 2016-02-26 Disciplinary Measures from the Metrical Psalms to Milton studies the relationship between English poetry and church discipline in four carefully chosen bodies of poetry written between the Reformation and the death of John Milton Its primary goal is to fill a gap in the field of Protestant poetics which has never produced a study focused on the way in which poetry participates in and reflects on the post Reformation English Church s attempts to govern conduct Its secondary goal is to revise the understandings of discipline which social theorists and historians have offered and which literary critics have largely accepted It argues that knowledge of the early modern culture of discipline illuminates some important poetic traditions and some major English poets and it shows that this poetry in turn throws light on verbal and affective aspects of the disciplinary process that prove difficult to access through other sources challenging assumptions about the means of social control the structures of authority and the practical implications of doctrinal change More specifically Disciplinary Measures argues that while poetry can help us to understand the oppressive potential of church discipline it can also help us to recover a more positive sense of discipline as a spiritual cure Linguistics across Disciplinary Borders Steven Coats, Veronika Laippala, 2024-01-11 This volume highlights the ways in which recent developments in corpus linguistics and natural language processing can engage with topics across language studies humanities and social science disciplines New approaches have emerged in recent years that blur disciplinary boundaries facilitated by factors such as the application of computational methods access to large data sets and the sharing of code as well as continual advances in technologies related to data storage retrieval and processing The march of data denotes an area at the border region of linguistics humanities and social science disciplines but also the inevitable development of the underlying technologies that drive analysis in these subject areas Organized into 3 sections the chapters are connected by the underlying thread of linguistic corpora how they can be created how they can shed light on varieties or registers and how their metadata can be utilized to better understand the internal structure of similar resources While some chapters in the volume make use of well established existing corpora others analyze data from platforms such as YouTube Twitter or Reddit The volume provides insight into the diversity of methods approaches and corpora that inform our understanding of the border regions between the realms of data science language linguistics and social or cultural studies Corpus Linguistics and Cross-Disciplinary Action Research Joanna Baumgart,2021-11-29 In this book Joanna Baumgart offers a detailed and innovative account of how a mixed methods approach combining corpus linguistics and discourse analysis can shed light on educational practice Corpus Linguistics and Cross Disciplinary Action Research is based on a 22 000 word corpus of mathematics lessons in a multicultural secondary school in Ireland with the analysis of classroom data supported by insights from reflective meetings with the participating teacher It demonstrates how examination of video recordings of lessons and reflective conversations facilitate discursive changes in the classroom and increase teacher awareness of classroom interaction Throughout the role of teacher talk is used as a model in the subject specific discourse into which students are socialized Baumgart also relates the story of a successful interdisciplinary approach to action research thereby providing an example of how talk and interaction can be examined within wider educational contexts Building on the premise of the key role which language and talk in particular plays in teaching and learning processes this book will be of keen interest to teacher educators as well as researchers in the fields of corpus linguistics discourse analysis and educational linguistics Disciplinary literacy in primary schools: Reading, writing and speaking across the curriculum

Shareen Wilkinson,2025-08-22 Drawing on the research evidence Disciplinary Literacy in Primary Schools offers both theoretical and practical examples of how teachers can support primary pupils in reading writing and speaking across the subject disciplines Shareen Wilkinson draws on twenty years experience in primary education to outline the ways in which disciplinary literacy can help pupils to read write and speak like scientists geographers and historians while exploring other areas across the curriculum This is an essential professional development resource for all Trust leads senior leaders local authority advisers teachers curriculum leads and subject leads who are passionate about having exemplary practice

Building Disciplinary Literacies in Content and Language Integrated Learning Julia Hüttner,Christiane Dalton-Puffer,2024-06-28 Hüttner and Dalton Puffer present research demonstrating the tangible benefits of the long term sustainability of Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL on participants educational outcomes The chapters outline the argument that the main benefit of CLIL lies in the fact that learners acquire specific literacy practices linked to the curricular subjects they study via the CLIL language and that these go beyond what is commonly learned and studied within a foreign language curriculum The book provides an orientation as to how such disciplinary literacy or literacies can be conceptualised and understood and introduces several models that have served to make disciplinary literacies graspable and visible The various chapters showcase research and development projects from different geographical and educational contexts and therefore elaborate ideas around disciplinary literacies from different vantage points This book aims at a wide and varied readership including graduate students studying applied linguistics foreign language education and or teaching methodology language teachers content subject teachers with an interest in the linguistic side of their subject and teacher trainers

Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching: A whole school approach to closing the attainment gap Kathrine Mortimore, 2020-12-15 Firmly rooted in research evidence of what works within the classroom for our most disadvantaged students Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching offers teachers and school leaders practical ways in which those students who are behind in their literacy capabilities can make excellent progress Building on the work of Geoff Barton in his influential book Don't Call it Literacy Kathrine Mortimore outlines the unique literacy challenges posed by specific subject areas for those with weaker literacy skills and more importantly how these challenges can be addressed and overcome A student's GCSE results are vital in giving them the choices they deserve in order to go on to the next stage of their academic careers This book draws on the success stories of schools and subjects that have made significant improvements in the outcomes of the children they teach regardless of their starting points From the inevitable success of Michaela Community school to the gains made by the English department at Torquay Academy and the rapid reading improvements at Henley Bank this book draws on both whole school initiatives and subject specific strategies which have had proven success This book places a wide and balanced knowledge rich curriculum at the centre of any school improvement strategy designed to improve literacy and illustrates the role that all subjects must combine to play in building the vital background knowledge and vocabulary that young people need in order to read independently This curriculum must then be delivered using those teaching methods that have had the greatest impact on disadvantaged learners and this book sets out how the methodology of direct and explicit instruction can be adopted within each subject area Alongside this is a useful summary of staff development and inset which offers practical ways in which teachers adoption of these effective strategies can be facilitated There are also useful sections on creating a whole school dictionary of essential vocabulary creating a culture of reading and writing and also those key literacy barriers experienced by those students with some of the most common special educational needs

The Underrepresentation of Women in Science: International and Cross-Disciplinary Evidence and Debate Stephen J. Ceci, Wendy M. Williams, Shulamit Kahn, 2018-04-20 There is no shortage of articles and books exploring women's underrepresentation in science Everyone is interested academics politicians parents high school girls and boys women in search of college majors administrators working to accommodate women's educational interests the list goes on But one thing often missing is an evidence based examination of the problem uninfluenced by personal opinions accounts of lived experiences anecdotes and the always encroaching inputs of popular culture This is why this special issue of Frontiers in Psychology can make a difference In it a diverse group of authors and researchers with even more diverse viewpoints find themselves united by their empirical objective approaches to understanding women's underrepresentation in science today The questions considered within this special issue span academic disciplines methods levels of analysis and
