

...SHE SAID AND OTHER FAIRY TALES ...

here was once a woman who wished very much to have a little child, and at last she went to a fairy, and said, "I should so very much like to have a little child, can you tell me where I can find one?"

"Oh, that can be easily managed," said the fairy. "Here is a grain of barley different from that grows in the fields and feeds the chickens, and she gave the fairy twelve silver pieces and she planted the barley twelve times. When the barley grew, she took a large handsome flower, something like a tulip, and she kissed the flower tightly closed as if it were still a bud. While she kissed the flower, a real tulip came out. Within the tulip was a very delicate and long as a thumb, and as small as a needle; her name was Snow-White. She was so small, and so fair, that she was called Snow-White."
