Notes and Queries, 1883 The Langurs of Abu Sarah Blaffer Hrdy, 1977 Sexual combat is not a monopoly of the human species As Sarah Blaffer Hrdy argues in this spellbinding book war between male and female animals has deep roots in evolutionary history Her account of family life among hanuman langurs the black faced gray monkeys inhabiting much of the Indian subcontinent is written with force wit and at times sorrow Male hanumans in pursuit of genetic success routinely kill babies sired by their competitors The mothers of endangered infants counter with various stratagems to deceive the males and prevent destruction of their own offspring Competition and selfishness are dominant themes of langur society Competition among males for access to females competition among females for access to food resources and disregard by one female for the well being of another s infant these are some very common examples Yet there are also moments of heroic self sacrifice as when an elderly female rushes to defend her troop and its babies from an invading infanticidal male The Langurs of Abu is the first book to analyze behavior of wild primates from the standpoint of both sexes It is also a poignant and sophisticated exploration of primate behavior patterns from a feminist point of view This book may inspire controversy it will certainly be read with pleasure by anyone interested in animal behavior Richly illustrated with photographs seven in full color
