Barthes' Mythologies Today Pete Bennett,Julian McDougall,2013-09-11 This is Barthes seminal text reimaged in a contemporary context by contemporary academics Through a revisiting of Mythologies a key text in cultural and media studies this volume explores the value these disciplines can add to an understanding of contemporary society and culture Leading academics in media English education and cultural studies here are tasked with identifying the new mythologies some fifty or so years on from Barthes original interventions The contributions in this volume then are readings of contemporary culture each engaging with a cultural event practice or text as mythological These readings are then contextualized by an introduction which reflects on the how of these engaging responses and an essay at the back of the book which replaces Myth Today with a reflection on the contemporary provenance of both Barthes and his most famous book Thus the book is at least two things at once whichever way you look a new Mythologies and a book about Barthes legacy an exploration of the place of theory in critical writing and a book about contemporary culture Consumer Culture, Branding and Identity in the New Russia Graham Roberts,2016-04-14 As shopping has been transformed from a chore into a major source of hedonistic pleasure a specifically Russian consumer culture has begun to emerge that is unlike any other This book examines the many different facets of consumption in today's Russia including retailing advertising and social networking Throughout emphasis is placed on the inherently visual not to say spectacular nature both of consumption generally and of Russian consumer culture in particular Particular attention is paid to the ways in which brands both Russian and foreign construct categories of identity in order to claim legitimacy for themselves What emerges is a fascinating picture of how consumer culture is being reinvented in Russia today in a society which has one nostalgic eye turned towards the past and the other utopian eye set firmly on the future Borrowing concepts from both marketing and cultural studies the approach throughout is interdisciplinary and will be of considerable interest to researchers students and practitioners wishing to gain invaluable insights into one of the most lucrative and exciting of today's emerging markets Social Forms/Human Capacities (RLE Social Theory) Philip Corrigan, 2020-07-26 This is an exhilarating book written by one of sociology's most imaginative theorists and critics Professor Corrigan proceeds by turning old answers into new questions He draws on a rich tradition of thought from sociology philosophy structuralism post structuralism and literary criticism to explore major ongoing problems in everyday life moral regulation schooling the capitalist world economy intellectuals and the problem of difference masculinity The result is one of the most dazzling contributions to critical sociology published in recent years

City is comprehended as the place for the American Dream of material success with its overwhelming bundle of skyscrapers. The author contends that it is only by approaching the phenomenon of September 11 in the context of iconic American skyscrapers that we can truly understand the ways September 11 has been canonized and imbued with a sacred character. At the same time her study allows September 11 to inform our understanding of the skyscraper as the essential American architectural form. She provides a socio psychoanalytic lens through the works of psychoanalysts Sigmund Freud and Jacques Lacan together with social theorists Michel Foucault and Pierre Bourdieu in understanding why New York City has been expanding vertically and what this architectonic verticality tells us about the American psyche.

Cinematic Starchitecture Merrill Schleier, Paul Newland, 2025-11-03 Cinematic Starchitecture explores how examples of famous architecture have circulated throughout cinema history across diverse genres. Building on the term starchitecture coined in 1997 for dramatic monumental structures designed to gain international attention and economic advantage, the authors demonstrate that a crucial part of an architectural structure's iconic star status emerges through its engagement with and codification by the media and with cinema in particular. This book explores how iconic architectural structures have performed a myriad of roles and functions that exceed buildings' everyday uses or identities as aesthetic objects, location markers or spatial settings to show that countless films globally have featured famous buildings as inimitable components of narrative exposition, character development and/or identity construction. This volume will appeal to students, scholars and researchers of film studies, media studies and architecture and architectural history as well as those in the areas of media and cultural studies, history, popular culture and urban geography.

The Father of Lights (Theology for the Life of the World) Junius Johnson, 2020-09-29 Every good giving and every perfect gift is from on high, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow of turning. James 1:17. This verse conveys a powerful image of God as the source and referent of all beauty. This book demonstrates how the experience of beauty is related to our inherent longing for the God who is reflected in such moments. Richly informed by Junius Johnson's expertise on Bonaventure and von Balthasar, the book offers a robust, full-orbed theology of beauty showing how it has functioned as a theological concept from biblical times to the present day.

A Companion to Art Theory Paul Smith, Carolyn Wilde, 2008-04-15 The Companion provides an accessible critical survey of Western visual art theory from sources in Classical, Medieval and Renaissance thought through to contemporary writings.

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 8, From Formalism to Poststructuralism George Alexander Kennedy, Raman Selden, 1989 Volume 8 of The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism deals with the most influential and hotly debated areas of literary theory, those developing in Europe but having their main impact in the Anglo-American world of academic literary studies, whose course they have fundamentally redirected. The structuralism, poststructuralism, Russian formalism, semiotics, narratology, hermeneutics, phenomenology, reception theory and speech act theory associated with European writers including Barthes, Todorov, Derrida and Iser are here described in the context of their original development but with an eye also to their eventual influence and the volume includes a reflective chapter by Richard Rorty on deconstruction. Incorporating full bibliographies, this volume engages systematically with the history of the twentieth century's most profound and extensive set of cross-cultural intellectual movements.

It situates these designs in their cultural and social contexts. Drawing examples from a range of design genres, leading design historians Grace Lees-Maffei and Nicolas P. Maffei explain theories of semiotics, postmodernism, and globalisation and consider issues and debates within visual communication theory such as legibility, the relationship of word and image, gender and identity, and the impact of digital forms on design. Their discussion takes in well-known brands like Alessi, Nike, Unilever, and Tate and everyday designed things including slogan t-shirts, car advertising, ebooks, corporate logos, posters, and music packaging.
