Book Club to Go Bag 67 Muriel Barbery,2010 Reimagining the European Family P. Simpson,2013-12-18 Re imagining the Family explores contemporary films and literature about the effects of legal and illegal immigration on the structure and the stories of the contemporary European family with a focus on Germany Lost in Thought Zena Hitz,2021-08-24 An invitation to readers from every walk of life to rediscover the impractical splendors of a life of learning In an overloaded superficial technological world in which almost everything and everybody is judged by its usefulness where can we turn for escape lasting pleasure contemplation or connection to others While many forms of leisure meet these needs Zena Hitz writes few experiences are so fulfilling as the inner life whether that of a bookworm an amateur astronomer a birdwatcher or someone who takes a deep interest in one of countless other subjects Drawing on inspiring examples from Socrates and Augustine to Malcolm X and Elena Ferrante and from films to Hitz s own experiences as someone who walked away from elite university life in search of greater fulfillment Lost in Thought is a passionate and timely reminder that a rich life is a life rich in thought Today when even the humanities are often defended only for their economic or political usefulness Hitz says our intellectual lives are valuable not despite but because of their practical uselessness And while anyone can have an intellectual life she encourages academics in particular to get back in touch with the desire to learn for its own sake and calls on universities to return to the person to person transmission of the habits of mind and heart that bring out the best in us Reminding us of who we once were and who we might become Lost in Thought is a moving account of why renewing our inner lives is fundamental to preserving our humanity Constructive Resistance Mona
