The Eternal Engagement Mary B. Morrison, 2014-11-04 Betrayal greed and sex Publishers Weekly New York Times bestselling author Mary B Morrison s thrilling tale of a love triangle lives at a crossroads and the price of secrets After her high school sweetheart joined the military Mona Lisa Ellington thought she d never love again So she settled for a man who cherished her and made his living hurting others Yet she prayed her fianc would one day return Mona Lisa s classmate Katherine Clinton knew she d marry her high school sweetheart and live happily ever after But when he left for the military she had to make new plans for her and their son Still Katherine dreamed of the day her fianc would return William Lincoln joined the military to make his grandfather proud He never imagined he would be gone so long Or that his selfish proposal to two women would be the least of his problems because all three would soon face the consequences of too much deception Mix dirty red drama relationship scandals suspense love and you get my girl Mary B Morrison Vickie Stringer Calvin's Political Theology and the Public Engagement of the Church Matthew J. Tuininga, 2017-04-06 John Calvin s two kingdoms political thought offers a fresh paradigm for constructive Christian engagement in pluralistic liberal societies Theology and the Crisis of Engagement Jeff Nowers, Néstor Medina, 2013-10-11 What does theology have to do with sociology Do the social sciences in general provide helpful assistance to theologians Does theology have anything to contribute to social theory This compendium of essays attempts to address such questions In so doing it confronts assumptions about how academic disciplines are best articulated whether within their own airtight frames or in dialogue with one another The essays in the first half of the book accomplish this from historical and methodological perspectives while the remaining essays present case studies or constructive proposals for how theology might engage the social sciences in productive ways For those particularly interested in the ongoing development of theologies of liberation this book will be timely The essays reflecting a definite international flavor are written in honor of Lee Cormie a long standing advocate of what he calls the new voices in theology that have irrupted in the wake of Vatican II Cormie has spent over three decades teaching theologies of liberation at the Toronto School of Theology on the campus of the University of Toronto This book continues the many conversations that his teaching has provoked Efficacious Engagement Kimberly Hope Belcher, 2011 The long standing tradition of baptizing infants suggests that the sacraments plunge our bodies into salvation so the revelation of God s love in the sacraments addresses the whole person not the mind alone In this work the contemporary Roman Catholic rite of baptism for infants becomes a case study manifesting the connections between the human body the ecclesial body and the Body of Christ The sacramental life for children as for adults is an ongoing journey deeper into the life of the Father the Son and the Holy Spirit By examining the church s practice of infant baptism Kimberly Hope Belcher asks how human beings participate in God s life through the sacraments Christian sacraments are embodied cultural rituals performed by and for human beings At the same time the sacraments are God s gifts of grace by which human beings enter into God s own life In this study contemporary ritual studies sacramental theology and trinitarian theology are used to explore how participation in the sacraments can be an efficacious engagement in God's life of love Kimberly Hope Belcher is an assistant professor of theology at Saint John's University where she teaches sacramental theology and ritual studies She is a member of the North American Academy of Liturgy and writes for the liturgical blog Pray Tell

Romain Rolland and the Politics of the Intellectual Engagement David Fisher, 2017-07-05 This intellectual portrait of Romain Rolland 1866-1944 French novelist musicologist dramatist and Nobel prizewinner in 1915 focuses on his experiments with political commitment against the backdrop of European history between the two world wars Best known as a biographer of Beethoven and for his novel Jean Christophe Rolland was one of those nonconforming writers who perceived a crisis of bourgeois society in Europe before the Great War and who consciously worked to discredit and reshape that society in the interwar period Analyzing Rolland's itinerary of engaged stands David James Fisher clarifies aspects of European cultural history and helps decipher the ambiguities at the heart of all forms of intellectual engagement Moving from text to context Fisher organizes the book around a series of debates Rolland's public and private collisions over specific committed stands introducing the reader to the polemical style of French intellectual discourse and offering insight into what it means to be a responsible intellectual Fisher presents Rolland's private ruminations extensive research and reexamination of the function and style of the French man of letters He observes that Rolland experimented with five styles of commitment oceanic mysticism linked to progressive democratic politics free thinking linked to antiwar dissent pacifism and ultimately Gandhism antifascism linked to anti imperialism antiracism and all out political resistance to fascism and most controversially fellow traveling as a form of socialist humanism and the positive side of antifascism Fisher views Rolland's engagement historically and critically showing that engaged intellectuals of that time were neither naive propagandists nor dupes of political parties David James Fisher makes a case for the committed writer and hopes to re ignite the debate about commitment For him Romain Rolland sums up engagement in a striking dialectical formula

Exile as an Educative Engagement Parmis Aslanimehr, 2025-06-30 This book explores the concept of exile experienced not as a physical displacement but as a subjective experience of disconnection from the Other It further clarifies the notion of exilic subjectivity whereby a hidden facet of the self ineffable both to the Other and to the Self causes a distance between self comprehension and external perception In doing so it poses a challenge to recognition theory's assertion that self understanding occurs through interactions with Others Engaging with the writings of Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel Charles Taylor Axel Honneth Søren Kierkegaard and Rumi the book explores the difficulties individuals encounter when transitioning their inwardly focused private identities into public spaces such as educational institutions It emphasizes the critical role educators can play in cultivating an atmosphere of attentive listening attuned to the unique experiences that may exile the self Through the complex interplay of writings by thinkers such as Hegel Kierkegaard Rumi Taylor and Pinar this work transcends traditional theories of recognition Rather than resolving misrecognition it embraces it as a central aspect of the human condition examining the tension between self perception and external acknowledgement The text phenomenologically investigates seeing the Other and the risk of misrecognizing an individual s innermost depths These insights find resonance in academia where even amid success a chasm may persist isolating students and educators from each other As the self dwells in the uneasiness of estrangement the discussion welcomes the ownership of silence and inwardness into the classroom From this detached perspective the possibility of recognizing the convergence of familiarity and strangeness before and within oneself may emerge This book is tailored for scholars educators and readers interested in the intersections of philosophy education and lived experience It offers readers innovative approaches to understanding exile and recognition fostering deeper engagement with the complexities of identity alienation and the self Catholic

Cross-Tradition Engagement on the Laws of Logic Bo Mou,2024-06-14 This book demonstrates how through cross tradition engagement insights and engaging treatments from the Chinese philosophical tradition can work with relevant resources from modern logic and contemporary philosophy to enhance our understanding of two basic principles of logic the law of identity and the law of non contradiction The law of identity and the law of non contradiction are widely accepted principles in logic and other intellectual pursuits However there are disagreements as to how to understand and treat the genuine structures and contents of these two basic principles

This book provides a holistic inquiry into these principles for the sake of enhancing our understanding and treatment of them from the vantage point of cross tradition engagement. It begins by offering a philosophical interpretation of three classical texts in Chinese philosophy in their respective contexts: the Bai Ma Lun in Gongsun Long's texts, the Xiao Qu in the Later Mohist texts, and Lao Zi's Dao De Jing in classical Daoism. The author explains an innovative dual track characterization of relative identity that is informed by relevant resources from these texts as well as Western philosophical traditions. He shows how this cross tradition engaging approach can make constructive and significant contributions to the jointly concerned fundamental issues of identity and reference in logic philosophy of logic and language metaphysics as well as philosophy more generally. Cross Tradition Engagement on the Laws of Logic will appeal to scholars and advanced students working in philosophy of logic, philosophy of language, Chinese philosophy and comparative philosophy.

Opening up spaces for meaningful engagement in educational praxis Nicolina Montesano Montessori, George Lengkeek, 2020-11-30

How to open up spaces to make education more meaningful. The concept of space can involve educational interactions, relationships, contents, and other relevant aspects relating to this purpose. The book presents three perspectives to engage in opening up spaces. It empowers pupils, students, and teachers to develop as unique individuals, better relate to the communities and cultural traditions to which they belong, and to develop new visions, understandings, and ways of living. This volume is the result of the search of a number of educational professionals on how to open up spaces to make education more meaningful. The opened spaces involve educational interactions, relationships, contents, and other relevant aspects relating to this purpose. The book presents three salient perspectives to engage in this envisioned path. It empowers pupils, students, and teachers to develop as unique individuals. This process includes engaging with personal feelings, developing a personal way of thinking and judging, and articulating one's own voice in relation to others and the specific social context. Relate to the communities and cultural traditions to which they want to belong and to interact with others who may belong to different cultural traditions. Develop new visions, understandings, and ways of living in order to lead a sustainable life within the potential of our eco system together with the myriads of other life forms on planet earth. These interconnected perspectives are elaborated in the domains of Bildung, worldview, education, mathematics, physical sciences, and language. The volume provides an inviting new perspective which holds that students and teachers are already entangled in worldly tensions and issues from the very start of their entering into education. Given this fact, it is a joint educational challenge to question and make sense of the complexities of today's world. As such, the spaces that are elaborated in this publication are identified as spaces for praxis by envisioning education as a means to actively improve ourselves and our contexts. The authors of this research compilation belong to the network of the combined research group Normative Professionalism Life Orientation of the Utrecht University and the HU University of Applied Sciences Utrecht. They are all professionals who combine intensive involvement in educational practice with practice oriented research.
