Optimality-theoretic Syntax, Semantics, and Pragmatics Géraldine Legendre,Michael T. Putnam,Henriëtte de Swart,Erin Zaroukian,2016 This book investigates the morphosyntactic semantic and pragmatic properties of language and the interactions between them from the perspective of Optimality Theory It integrates optimization processes into the formal and functional study of grammar interpreting optimization as the result of conflicting violable ranked constraints Unlike previous work on the topic this book also takes into account the question of directionality of grammar A model of grammar in which optimization processes interact bidirectionally allows both language generation the process of selecting the optimal form of a given meaning and language interpretation the process of optimal interpretation of a given form to be taken into account Chapters in this volume explore the consequences of both symmetric unidirectional and asymmetric bidirectional versions of Optimality Theory investigating the syntax semantics interface first language acquisition and sequential bilingual grammars The volume presents cutting edge research in Optimality Theoretic syntax and semantics as well as demonstrating how optimization processes as modelled in this formalism serve as a viable approach for linguists and scholars in related fields

Corporate Social Responsibility and Discrimination Christina Keinert-Kisin, 2016-04-27 This book presents and deconstructs the existing explanations for the differential career development of qualified men and women It reframes the problem of discrimination in the workplace as a matter of organizational ethics social responsibility and compliance with existing equal opportunity laws Sensitive points are identified where social biases decision makers individual economic interests and shortcomings of organizational incentive policies may lead to discrimination against qualified women The ideas put forward are empirically tested in an original laboratory experiment that examines personnel selection in the male dominated field of science and technology It contrasts the selection of applicants with gendered and gender blind applications available to subjects under controlled conditions 30% of participants were high level decision makers which is unprecedented in this field of research The results highly relevant for organizational practice are explained and discussed in detail
