Coordination Relations in the Languages of Europe and Beyond Caterina Mauri, 2008-11-03. This book examines the coding of the three coordination relations of combination, contrast and alternative between states of affairs on the basis of a 74 language sample with special focus on the languages spoken in Europe. It constitutes the first systematic inquiry so far conducted on the cross-linguistic coding of coordination as defined in cognitive and pragmatic terms. This research shows that the 'and-but-or' coding system which is typical of Central Western Europe appears to be extremely rare outside Europe where a great variation in the coding of coordination is attested. This cross-linguistic variation, however, is not random but is crucially constrained by the interaction of economic principles with the semantic properties of the individual relations expressed. A fine-grained functional systematization of coordination is proposed and described by means of implicational patterns and semantic maps. This work brings together a broad cross-linguistic perspective and a detailed semantic analysis largely based on new and comparable data collected by means of questionnaires, all accessible in the appendix of the book. It represents the first systematic attempt towards a unified typology of coordination relations.

Basic Emirati Arabic Tommi Tsz-Cheung Leung, Dimitrios Ntelitheos, Meera Al Kaabi, 2024-03-26. Basic Emirati Arabic: A Grammar and Workbook is an elementary level grammar book of the variety of Gulf Arabic spoken in the United Arab Emirates. In this book, a series of compact units provide brief and concise descriptions of the fundamental grammatical structures, accompanied by examples drawn from Emirati native language speakers and several exercises assessing the learner's understanding and mastery of the grammatical structure discussed. A key to these exercises is also provided so that learners can self-assess their progress and obtain immediate feedback. This book is intended for beginner learners who would like to engage with this variety of Arabic and learn its basic grammatical structure through practice. It is additionally a valuable tool for language teachers of Emirati and Gulf Arabic as well as learners of Modern Standard Arabic who would like access to a basic reference of the dialect.

The Morphosyntax of Negative Markers Karen De Clercq, 2020-06-08. This book applies the tools of nanosyntax to the natural language phenomenon of negation. Most work on negation is concerned with the study of sentence negation, while low-scope negation or constituent negation is hardly ever systematically discussed in the literature. The present book aims to fill that gap by investigating scopally different negative markers in a sample of 23

typologically diverse languages A four way classification of negative markers is argued for and it is shown how meaningful syncretism patterns arise across those four groups of negative markers in the language sample investigated The syncretisms are meaningful in that they track the natural semantic scope of negation and provide support to the idea that morphology is not arbitrary but points to submorphemic structure Consequently this study leads to a decomposition of the negative morpheme into five privative features Tense Focus Classification Quantity and Negation proper Finally the book argues that sentence constituent and lexical negation can all be treated in the same module of the grammar i e syntax
