(Pushing) the Limits of Neuroplasticity Induced by Adult Language Acquisition Jurriaan Witteman, Leticia Pablos-Robles, Maria Carmen Parafita Couto, Niels Schiller, Yiya Chen, Patrick Wong, 2018-11-08 Most adults attempt to learn a second or even third language at some point in their life Since language exposure is one of the most intense cognitive training regimes one can encounter it is not surprising that previous research has shown that multilingualism can induce profound change in the brain or neuroplasticity What remains unclear is the scope of such adult language learning induced neuroplasticity In other words much is yet to be investigated about the factors that limit or promote adult language learning induced neuroplasticity On the one hand the present research topic discusses research that sheds light on neural mechanisms that limit adult language learning induced neuroplasticity such as neural mechanisms of first language interference in the acquisition of a second language and reduced opportunity for language induced neuroplasticity due to aging On the other hand the Research Topic discusses factors that could enhance non native language learning and underlying neuroplastic mechanisms such as the duration of the training regime language aptitude and meta linguistic awareness Therefore the goal of the present Research Topic is to examine both the limits of neuroplasticity in adult language learning and the ways to push beyond those limits Understanding of such limits and frontiers to push beyond the limits is not only theoretically fundamental but could also have practical implications for enhancing language training programmes

Latinas Narratives of Domestic Abuse Shonna L. Trinch, 2003 In the American legal system valid witness testimony is supposed to be invariable and unchanging so defense attorneys highlight seeming inconsistencies in victims accounts to impeach their credibility This book offers an examination of how and why victims of domestic violence might seem to be changing their stories in the criminal justice system which may leave them vulnerable to attack and criticism Latinas Narratives of Domestic Abuse Discrepant versions of violence investigates the discourse of protective order interviews where women apply for court injunctions to keep abusers away In these encounters two different versions of violence each influenced by a range of ethnolinguistic intertextual and cultural factors are always produced This ethnography of Latina women narrating violence suggests that before victims even get to trial their testimony involves much more than merely telling the truth This book provides a unique look at pre trial testimony as a collaborative and dynamic social and cultural act
