The Death of the Poet N Quentin Woolf, 2014-04-04 John Knox falls passionately and irrevocably in love with Rachel McAllistair the first time they meet He interviews her for his radio show and afterwards when he tells her how impressive she was she hits him square on the jaw Undeterred he pursues her promising to love her and never to leave her This promise becomes his burden as her behaviour whirls out of control She is abusive and cruel And yet he stays Even when she does something so awful that his life is changed forever And that point on which his life turns leads him to an unexpected connection with a man who suffered a terrible injury in the first world war The Death of the Poet is a daringly honest transfixing story about being in thrall to someone being a victim and a protector and how early promise can turn into an utterly unrecognisable life An exploration of violence and what it means to be a man in the modern world it is controversial devastating and in a complicated way romantic too Edinburgh Companion to Atlantic Literary Studies Leslie Eckel,2016-09-20 New and original collection of scholarly essays examining the literary complexities of the Atlantic world system This Companion offers a critical overview of the diverse and dynamic field of Atlantic literary studies with contributions by distinguished scholars on a series of topics that define the area The essays focus on literature and culture from first contact to the present exploring fruitful Atlantic connections across space and time across national cultures and embracing literature culture and society This research collection proposes that the analysis of literature and culture does not depend solely upon geographical setting to uncover textual meaning Instead it offers Atlantic connections based around migration race gender and sexuality ecologies and other significant ideological crossovers in the Atlantic World The result is an exciting new critical map written by leading international researchers of a lively and expanding field Key Features Offers an introduction to the growing field of Atlantic literary studies by showcasing current work engaged in debate around historical cultural and literary issues in the Atlantic World Includes 26 newly commissioned scholarly essays by leading experts in Atlantic literary studies Fuses breadth of historical knowledge with depth of literary scholarship Considers the full range of intercultural encounters around and across the Atlantic Ocean HBO's The Leftovers Eliot Borenstein,2023-12-06 This book unpacks and analyzes the central themes of sacrifice melancholy apocalypticism and the nature of family and home in HBO's The Leftovers to demonstrate the key role it played in the development of early twenty first century television Eliot Borenstein argues that the story of The Leftovers is the most sustained exploration of loss ever to appear on American television and subverts the expectations of viewers who look to prestige dramas as puzzles to solve by providing no clear answers the mysteries most central to the show's plot Instead Borenstein posits the series endeavors to provide more nuanced and realistic portrayals of the melancholy that occurs when people's lives are unmoored leavening an inherently depressing experience with absurdity and moments of grace Wild Child Naomi Morgenstern,2018-05-08 Exploring how the figure of the wild child in contemporary fiction grapples with contemporary cultural anxieties about reproductive ethics and the future of humanity In the eighteenth century Western philosophy positioned the figure of the child at the border between untamed nature and rational adulthood Contemporary cultural anxieties about the ethics and politics of reproductive choice and the crisis of parental responsibility have freighted this liminal figure with new meaning in twenty first century narratives In Wild Child Naomi Morgenstern explores depictions of children and their adult caregivers in extreme situations ranging from the violence of slavery and sexual captivity to accidental death mass murder torture and global apocalypse in such works as Toni Morrison s A Mercy Cormac McCarthy s The Road Lionel Shriver s We Need to Talk about Kevin Emma Donoghue s Room and Denis Villeneuve s film Prisoners Morgenstern shows how in such narratives wild children function as symptoms of new ethical crises and existential fears raised by transformations in the technology and politics of reproduction and by increased ethical questions about the very decision to reproduce In the face of an uncertain future that no longer confirms the confidence of patriarchal humanism such narratives displace or project present day apprehensions about maternal sacrifice and paternal protection onto the wildness of children in a series of hyperbolically violent scenes Urgent and engaging Wild Child offers the only extended consideration of how twenty first century fiction has begun to imagine the decision to reproduce and the ethical challenges of posthumanist parenting

Theaters of Trauma Richard Raubolt,2008-07-11 This book is an unflinching and deeply personal rendering of the emotional turmoil encountered in healing from trauma that is both physical and spiritual The reader is invited inside the consulting room to witness the theaters of trauma where dramatic pain fear and despair are enacted side by side with courage honesty and resiliency This slim volume presents trauma recovery in a unique style that is both powerful and refreshingly free of psychological jargon Theaters of Trauma goes directly to the heart burning soul and drama of traumatic experiences The images created by penetrating prose will captivate and mesmerize the reader This book is a special gift to everyone people curious about trauma and its treatment by a master clinician therapists who want to learn more about their work and survivors who are struggling to break free of their chains Stuart D Perlman Ph D Author of The Therapist s Emotional Survival Ethics at the Beginning of Life James Mumford,2013-06-13 Many declare the debate about abortion to be hopelessly polarised between conservatives and liberals between forces religious and secular In this book Mumford upends this received wisdom and challenges consensus arguing that many dominant attitudes and argument fail to take into account the particular way human beings emerge in the world Selfish Women Lisa Downing,2019-05-24 This book proceeds from a single and very simple observation throughout history and up to the present women have received a clear message that we are not supposed to prioritize ourselves Indeed the whole question of self is a problem for women and a problem that issues from a wide range of locations including in some cases feminism itself When women espouse discourses of self interest self regard and selfishness they become illegible This is complicated by the commodification of the self in the recent Western mode of economic and political organization known as neoliberalism which encourages a focus on self fashioning that may not be identical with self regard or self interest Drawing on figures from French US and UK contexts including Rachilde Ayn Rand Margaret Thatcher and Lionel Shriver and examining discourses from psychiatry media and feminism with the aim of reading against the grain

Lacan in the End Times Rob Weatherill,2022-09-21 This book explores themes around the Father His absence in modern society and the decline of mental health The nature of this decline can be uniquely psychoanalytically theorised in both the corresponding ferocity of the internal object and exposure to the Real The first part of this book underlines what psychoanalysis and psi sciences continue to overlook who now provides what Lacan called the narrow footbridge between anxiety and death What terror ism must replace the father How can reality be stabilised once more The second part follows the atomised world as it turns towards extremism and utopian dreams in Ireland via Hanaghan s radical psychoanalysis in Levinasian ethics in Gnostic belief in an evil world and in the clinic of the death drive The conclusion turns finally to the God beyond God and the overwhelming evidence for God s presence in the world Lacan in the End Times will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychotherapists counsellors social workers and scholars in critical theory philosophy cultural theory literary theory and theology

Childhood in the Contemporary English Novel Sandra Dinter,2019-10-10 Since the 1980s novels about childhood for adults have been a booming genre within the contemporary British literary market Childhood in the Contemporary English Novel offers the first comprehensive study of this literary trend Assembling analyses of key works by Ian McEwan Doris Lessing P D James Nick Hornby Sarah Moss and Stephen Kelman and situating them in their cultural and political contexts Sandra Dinter uncovers both the reasons for the current popularity of such fiction and the theoretical shift that distinguishes it from earlier literary epochs The book s central argument is that the contemporary English novel draws on the constructivist paradigm shift that revolutionised the academic study of childhood several decades ago Contemporary works of fiction Dinter argues depart from the notion of childhood as a naturally given phase of life and examine the agents interests and conflicts involved in its cultural production Dinter also considers the limits of this new theoretical impetus observing that authors and scholars alike even when they claim to conceive of childhood as a construct do not always give up on the idea of its natural core Accordingly this book reconstructs how the English novel between the 1980s and the 2010s oscillates between an acknowledgment of constructivism and an endorsement of childhood as the last irrevocable quintessence of humanity In doing so it successfully extends the literary and cultural history of childhood to the immediate present

Women's Fiction and Post-9/11 Contexts Peter Childs, Claire Colebrook, Sebastian Groes, 2014-10-21 9 11 is not simple a date on the calendar but marks a distinct historical threshold ushering in the war on terror various states of emergency a supposed clash of civilizations and the putative legitimization of counter democratic procedures ranging from extraordinary renditions to enhanced interrogation Perhaps no date since Virginia Woolf declared that on or about December 1910 human character changed has marked such a singular point in the perception of time identity and nature Women s writing has always been something of a counter canon offering modes of voice and point of view beyond that of the man of reason This collection of essays explores the two problems of what it means to write as a woman and what it means to write in the twenty first century

Crime Fiction Migration Christiana Gregoriou, 2017-07-27 Crime narratives form a large and central part of the modern cultural landscape This book explores the cognitive stylistic processing of prose and audiovisual fictional crime texts It also examines instances where such narratives find themselves through popular demand migrating meaning that they cross languages media formats and or cultures In doing so Crime Fiction Migration proposes a move from a monomodal to a multimodal approach to the study of crime fiction Examining original crime fiction works alongside their translations adaptations and remakings proves instrumental in understanding how various semiotic modes interact with one another The book analyses works such as We Need to Talk About Kevin The Killing trilogy and the reimaginings of plays such as Shear Madness and films such as Funny Games Crime fiction is consistently popular and on the move witness the spate of detective series exported out of Scandinavia or the ever popular exporting of these shows from the USA This multimodal and semiotically aware analysis of global crime narratives expands the discipline and is key reading for students of linguistics criminology literature and film

Will Spook You For Real Christina Maria Huber, 2018 Popular fiction can be more than feel good diversion Stories which are intended to entertain are uniquely suited to affect their recipients feelings or moods and tend to leave a more sustained impression than lectures or lists of facts It is hardly surprising therefore that story telling keeps on thriving in the 21st century with ever new media providing ever new space for narratives In Will Spook You For Real Huber examines a wide range of strategies used in fiction to trigger a specific emotion in the readers anxiety regarding the social constructs they live in and their specific positions within these constructs Can we trust our neighbours Can we rely on our governments What do big corporations have in mind And what happens if I cannot conform to the role which has been assigned to me

The Lost Child in Literature and Culture Mark Froud, 2017-10-18 This book is an extensive study of the figure of the lost child in English speaking and European literature and culture It argues that the lost child figure is of profound importance for our society a symptom as well as a cause of deep trauma This trauma or void is a fundamental disruption of the structures that define us self history and even language This puts the figure of the child in context with previous research that the modern conception of a child was formed alongside modern conceptions of memory The book analyses the representation of the lost child through fairy tales historical oppression and in recent novels and films The book then studies the connection of the lost child figure with the uncanny and its centrality to language The book considers the lost child figure as an archetype on a metaphysical and philosophical level as well as cultural
