Stupid to the Last Drop William Marsden, 2010-05-28 A bestselling investigative journalist takes a tour of the Alberta oil and gas industry revealing how Canada's richest province is squandering our chance for a sustainable future In its desperate search for oil and gas riches Alberta is destroying itself As the world teeters on the edge of catastrophic climate change Alberta plunges ahead with uncontrolled development of its fossil fuels levelling its northern Boreal forest to get at the oil sands and carpet bombing its southern half with tens of thousands of gas wells In so doing it is running out of water destroying its range land wiping out its forests and wildlife and spewing huge amounts of greenhouse gases into the atmosphere adding to global warming at a rate that is unrivalled in Canada or almost anywhere else in the world It's digging drilling and blasting its way to oblivion becoming the ultimate symbol of Canada's and the world's pathological will to self destruct Nowhere has the world seen such colossal environmental destruction as is being wreaked on Alberta At one point the province even went so far as to consider a scientist's idea of nuking its underbelly to get at the tar sands Stupid to the Last Drop looks at the increasingly violent geopolitical forces that are gathering as the world's gas and oil dwindle and the Age of Oil begins its inevitable slide towards oblivion As Canadians deplete their energy reserves selling them off to

Americans at bargain basement prices no thought is given to conservation or the long term needs of the nation In this powerful polemic William Marsden journeys across the heart of a province seized by the destructive forces of greed power and the energy business and envisions a very bleak future Shared Value, Shared Responsibility Emma Wilson, Judy Kuszewski, 2011 High prices and concerns about energy security in the oil and gas industry are driving expansion into ever more sensitive environments with greater technological political and social risks While brands such as BP Shell and ExxonMobil are well known some 70 per cent of oil and gas industry activities are typically contracted out to service providers and their subcontractors The fallout from the April 2010 Gulf of Mexico disaster has shone a spotlight on alleged systemic failures and ongoing difficulties in contracting relationships As the governments of oil producing countries from Nigeria to Kazakhstan to Venezuela seek to take greater control of their oil and gas resources there are pressures to expand the role of local businesses in chains of contractors Government targets for local hiring and procurement paper draws on three years of research and interviews within the oil and gas sector to highlight an array of critical challenges facing oil and gas companies involved in complex supply chains and to identify urgent and longer term actions for progress Over the Cliff? Richard Saillant, 2014-04-29 In this important and timely study Richard Saillant provides a compelling account of New Brunswick's perilous fiscal situation In an engaging and accessible style he explains how we got there and where we are headed unless we change course soon Saillant also provides New Brunswickers with a roadmap to steer away from the cliff and ensure that we don't bequeath an unmanageable burden to future generations
