The View From Here English Edition:

The View from Here R. Jay Wallace, 2018-02-06 Must we always later regret actions that were wrong for us to perform at the time Can there ever be good reason to affirm things in the past that we know were unfortunate In this original work of moral philosophy R Jay Wallace shows that the standpoint from which we look back on our lives is shaped by our present attachments to persons to the projects that imbue our lives with meaning and to life itself Through a distinctive affirmation dynamic these attachments commit us to affirming the necessary conditions of their objects The result is that we are sometimes unable to regret events and circumstances that were originally unjustified or otherwise somehow objectionable Wallace traces these themes through a range of examples A teenage girl makes an ill advised decision to conceive a child but her love for the child once it has been born makes it impossible for her to regret that earlier decision The painter Paul Gauguin abandons his family to pursue his true artistic calling and eventual life project in Tahiti which means he cannot truly regret his abdication of familial responsibility The View from Here offers new interpretations of these classic cases challenging their treatment by Bernard Williams and others Another example is the bourgeois predicament we are committed to affirming the regrettable social inequalities that make possible the expensive activities that give our lives meaning Generalizing from such situations Wallace defends the view that our attachments inevitably commit us to affirming historical conditions that we cannot regard as worthy of being affirmed a modest form of nihilism

The View From Here Brian Keith Jackson, 1998-02 On hearing that his wife is pregnant with their sixth child a father in a black rural family in Mississippi announces he will give the child to his sister as he cannot feed more mouths This is bad news for the mother because the sister is an abusive and dishonest woman It is also bad news for the girl in the mother's womb who narrates the story

The View from Here Hannah McKinnon, 2020-06-02 From the acclaimed author of Sailing Lessons and Mystic Summer a charming gem of a novel Elin Hilderbrand 1 New York Times bestselling author an evocative and moving tale about what it means to be a family set over the course of one unforgettable Connecticut summer Siblings Perry Jake and Phoebe Goodwin were raised on the shore of a beautiful Connecticut lake in a close knit family The eldest of the family forty two year old Perry has long craved order as surely as his charismatic younger brother Jake has avoided it Phoebe their baby sister courts both As adults the Goodwin siblings could not be more different Perry is as married to his career in New York as a risk analyst as Phoebe is to her college sweetheart but both have returned to Connecticut to raise their young families Charismatic Jake however has spent his years living away wanderlust and unable to settle The three have not spent much time together until this summer On the afternoon of their grandmother's ninety seventh birthday party the siblings reunite at the lake house where Jake stuns the family with a stranger on his arm and an announcement Olivia Cossette daughter of a French chef does not share the traditional Goodwin New England upbringing or sense of family What she does share is parenthood as the single mother of a little girl who does not speak While the Goodwin family struggle to welcome the newcomers over the course of the summer a series of bad choices made by each family member finally unravels leaving them all to question just what truly makes a family. Can one fateful moment on a July afternoon undo a lifetime of good intentions? Only one thing is for certain: this extraordinary summer has irrevocably changed the Goodwin family and all that remains is the uncertain future. With Hannah McKinnon's signature enticing and refreshing prose, this is a warm-hearted novel that is perfect for fans of Mary Alice Monroe's The Beach House series and the works of Elin Hilderbrand.

The View From Here
 Cindy Myers, 2012-12-01 In this heartfelt beautifully written novel, a woman with nothing left to lose finds the courage to start over in the last place she ever expected. Newly divorced Maggie Carter has little to show for her marriage except a pile of boxes and regrets. So when she learns she's inherited an old house and an abandoned gold mine in Eureka, Colorado, she doesn't hesitate to leave Houston behind. In Colorado, she can learn about her estranged father and take stock of her life. After all, where better to decide what your next move should be than in a cabin 10,000 feet above sea level? Eureka is a tiny hamlet with a café, a library, and plenty of intriguing locals. There's the colorful town mayor Lucille and her prodigal daughter Olivia, a bitter librarian Cassie, and handsome enigmatic James Clark, who had a fascinating love-hate relationship with Maggie's father. Then there are the soaring views of distant mountains and clear blue sky, aspen trees, and endless stars. Piece by piece, Maggie is uncovering her father's past and reconciling with her own. And in this small mountain town, she just might find a place where she truly belongs.

Cindy Myers strikes gold with this warm-hearted novel about friendship, family, and second chances. New York Times bestselling author Deborah Smith: Cindy Myers worked as a newspaper reporter, travel agent, and medical clinic manager before turning to writing full time. She's written both historical and contemporary romance as well as dozens of short stories and nonfiction articles. Former president of San Antonio Romance Authors, Cindy is a member of Romance Writers of America, Novelists Inc., and Rocky Mountain Fiction Writers. She is in demand as a speaker, teaching workshops and making presentations to both local and national writing groups. She and her husband and their two dogs live in the mountains southwest of Denver.

 Joyce McKee, 2010-04-01 THE VIEW FROM HERE is a rich, compelling testament to the strength and resilience of the human spirit. Frieda Berman's clear, honest story illustrates the Jewish immigrant experience from escaping the pogroms of Russia in 1920 to fleeing the persecution of the Nazis in Romania to discovering love and building a home in a New Jersey suburb. Frieda bravely examines her fears, sadness, and regrets with infectious candor. Frieda Berman offers us an important historical perspective on the struggles and triumphs of women from her generation. It gave me even more appreciation for the choices and options we have available today while giving me firsthand insight into the difficulties the women of yesterday faced and the strength and courage they needed to survive.

Robyn Hatcher: What happens when the curtain of words—daughter, wife, mother, grandmother—is pulled back and the woman is revealed? Describing fleeing pogroms and Nazis as a child to living on her own for the first time at age eighty-five, THE VIEW FROM HERE tells the story of courage and determination to live and love in the face of crisis and loss In the cracks of the hard life so many immigrants faced in America Frieda recognizes the poetry around us makes the day and the days stack up to make a life C O Moed Joyce McKee is a freelance screenwriter who lives in New York City with her husband and two sons The View from Here Clair Verway,2003-10 The View From Here is a poetry collection The unique aspect of this collection is an appendix which offers explanations of the source for each poem and the considerations given to the form In addition a teacher s guide with suggested study questions will be made available making the book an instant poetry lesson These lessons are intended to be ready made so a teacher may use them on short notice such as for a substitute or as part of a larger poetry unit The View From Here Lynne Hinton,2018-06-01 Katie Sinclair climbed up a loblolly pine just to see if she could And then she stayed creating a media sensation and more than a little trouble for the folks in Jones County North Carolina There is a lot of speculation about why the state employee took to the tree Some think she is making a political statement about the destruction of forests for urban development Others believe her recent divorce has driven her to a nervous breakdown But the truth is she s living in a tree because she needs a new perspective She needs a wider view of a life that had somehow become tedious and small From her perch high above Katie deals with the deputy who keeps being sent to try and talk her down a brutal spring storm well meaning environmentalists odd and interesting townspeople a pair of protective horned owls a mysterious reporter and even some dangerous boys sent by a local developer whose plans demand removal of her tree There is plenty for Katie to take in while living in a tree The View From Here is her story Author Lynne Hinton s elegant effortless prose shows us as if we were on the landing beside Katie what Katie is seeing and learning about birds sky wind her neighbors and other people But she and us with her her reader is changed primarily by what she discovers about herself about grief and forgiveness and about the true love that has been in front of her for most of her life No reader will be unmoved by the imaginative conceit of this novel or its wise lyrical and empathetic telling crafted by a master writer The View from Here Deborah McKinlay,2011 At 22 Frances was drifting scraping by giving English lessons in Mexico when she met a group of glamorous Americans staying in a mansion on a private beach Two decades later in rural England she discovers a love letter from a younger woman addressed to her husband at the same time she discovers she s facing a life threatening illness As life unravels she searches for how to confront her husband s infidelity and finds herself haunted by the memory of a heady desert encounter with the charmed American family back in 1976 and is forced to face her own illicit secrets of betrayal The View from Up Here William Joseph Hunter,2020-06-01 The View from Up Here By William Joseph Hunter As we are all well aware U S history shows us a number of fallacies As American citizens we have certain responsibilities to our fellow man The U S Government is doing everything that they can to keep us divided It is time that we the people of the U S A stop listening to the claptrap that we are being fed and go forward together Author William Joseph Hunter tells us This is not about you This is not about me This is about us If you don t believe me have you DNA tested and
