If I Love You, Why Is It So Hard to Live With You? Susan Gleeson, 2013-08-10 EMPATHY IS THE KEY NO MATTER WHERE WE ARE IN THE LIFE OF AN INTIMATE RELATIONSHIP EMPATHY IS THE QUALITY WE NEED After all is said and done to thrive in an intimate relationship the quality most required is that of empathy extended from each partner to the other We can attain this state after both partners have learned to know and accept themselves and after they know and fully accept the other In addition to empathy we need to become curious and diligent students of our relationship the We that we create which is an entity unto itself and is as real as each of us as individuals In If I Love You Why Is It So Hard to Live With You Dr Gleeson discusses how we can tackle the process of learning how to know and accept ourselves how we can make a healthy choice of intimate partner and how we can come to understand our relationship

Re-humanizing Medicine David R. Kopacz, 2014-11-28 What starts as personal dissatisfaction in the workplace can become personal transformation that changes clinical practice and ultimately changes the culture of medicine Physicians and professionals train extensively to relieve suffering Yet the systems they train and practice in create suffering for both themselves and their clients through the neglect of basic human needs True healthcare reform requires addressing dehumanization in medicine by caring for the whole person of the professional and the patient Re humanizing Medicine provides a holistic framework to support human connection and the expression of full human being of doctors professionals and patients A clinician needs to be a whole person to treat a whole person thus the work of transformation begins with clinicians As professionals work to transform themselves this will in turn transform their clinical practices and healthcare institutions A Companion to Doing Ethics Alan A.
