The Immersive Worlds Handbook Scott A. Lukas, 2013 Industry insider Scott Lukas teaches you how to design exciting believable authentic themed spaces Make your immersive worlds come alive with the gems in this book including key industry interviews and case studies The Exhibition and Experience Design Handbook Timothy J. McNeil, 2023-04-04 Today's multi modal participatory exhibitions and attractions are bound by a desire to convey information excite the viewer and create social and narrative experiences Without design at the helm and employed effectively these experiential moments would not become lasting memories that inform and inspire an increasingly sophisticated audience This full color illustrated handbook based on the author's research and expertise as an exhibition designer educator and critic is the first title to simultaneously explain how to design exhibitions and attractions successfully contextualize contemporary exhibition design practice through its historical and theoretical underpinnings elevate understanding of one of the most rapidly evolving and trans disciplinary creative disciplines illuminate exhibition design's contributions to the expanding global market for civic cultural commercial and entertainment experiences and reframe the exhibition design process using a set of recurring tropes and the methods they employ making this book distinct from other practice based museological or commercially driven titles

This full color book with over 250 photographs and drawings uses real world examples museum and exhibition design studio profiles historical and contemporary voices and draw on the author s own creative practice and exhibition making experience as well as contributions from his extensive network of international museum attraction and design professionals The author introduces a new methodology for understanding exhibition and experience design One that elevates understanding of one of the most rapidly evolving and trans disciplinary creative disciplines Twelve easy to follow illustrated chapters introduce a set of reoccurring exhibition design conventions or tropes that are omnipresent in exhibition making and can be used to chart a new methodology for understanding exhibition design and its process

Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries Donna L. Gilton, 2016-06-21 Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries Tools and Tips For Practitioners is the sequel to Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries Principles Programs and People On the one hand Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries focuses on the information needs and the developmental and psychological characteristics of diverse library users of all ages It endorses the use of ILI to promote lifelong learning in public libraries both by borrowing techniques from academic and school libraries and by building on existing public library traditions of programming and outreach This book also compares lifelong learning in public libraries to informal and nonformal education in museums community organizations and agencies places of worship and other organizations In addition Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries describes basic steps that librarians can execute in order to get started On the other hand Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries focuses much more on how public librarians can specifically plan and implement their instruction with chapters on planning for instruction using teaching methodologies teaching with and about technology and bringing ILI together with more traditional public library services programming and activities such as reference and Readers Advisory services bibliotherapy and cultural and literacy programming Changes in ILI standards and comparisons of ILI with basic reading media digital and cultural literacies are also described Both books together should act as basic manuals for public librarians who promote lifelong learning Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries also have helpful teaching hints for all librarians and other professionals who teach in a variety of settings outstanding advances that offer new theoretical perspectives and practical research directions in design and which are aimed at fostering communication in a global digital world while also addressing key individual and societal needs HCI

International 2020 - Late Breaking Posters Constantine Stephanidis, Margherita Antona, Stavroula Ntoa, 2020-11-07 This book constitutes the extended abstracts of the posters presented during the 22nd International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCII 2020 which was held in July 2020. The conference was planned to take place in Copenhagen Denmark but had to change to a virtual conference mode due to the COVID 19 pandemic. From a total of 6326 submissions a total of 1439 papers and 238 posters have been accepted for publication in the HCII 2020 proceedings before the conference took place. In addition a total of 333 papers and 144 posters are included in the volumes of the proceedings published after the conference as Late Breaking Work papers and posters. These contributions address the latest research and development efforts in the field and highlight the human aspects of design and use of computing systems. The 82 papers presented in this volume are organized in topical sections as follows: design for all and sensitive technologies, virtual augmented and mixed reality, learning, HCI culture and art, health and wellbeing applications, HCI in mobility, automotive and aviation. Ubiquitous Mapping

Yoshiki Wakabayashi, Takashi Morita, 2022-07-24 Since the last decades of the twentieth century the circumstances surrounding map use and map making have drastically changed owing to advances in information and communication technologies, ICTs. In particular the spread of web maps and mobile devices have altered the way people interact with maps. This book features the latest works on theoretical and practical issues of these changes by terming them ubiquitous mapping. In particular the book pays attention to not only the technological basis but also multidisciplinary human social aspects. The book covers the topics of the evaluation of ICT based technologies for context aware mapping, the theory and application of crowd sourced geospatial information and collaborative mapping, and both the positive and negative effects of ubiquitous mapping on human society. Basics Graphic Design 03: Idea Generation

Neil Leonard, Gavin Ambrose, 2012-12-17 Successful visual outcomes can only be arrived at through the generation of great ideas driven by research that will ultimately provide the designer with a range of potential design solutions. Basics Graphic Design 03: Idea Generation explores the different ways in which the designer can generate ideas. Consideration is given to audience context and materials as well as to the many levels of idea generation from the macro to the micro from brainstorming to more focused selective and strategic systems. Learning and Collaboration Technologies

Panayiotis Zaphiris, Andri Ioannou, 2015-07-18 The LNCS volume 9192 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Second International Conference on Learning and Collaboration Technologies LCT 2015 held as part of the 17th International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCII 2015 in Los Angeles CA USA in August 2015 jointly with 15 other thematically similar conferences. Hospital Architecture Julie Zook, Kerstin Sailer, 2022-03-22 The Covert Life of Hospital Architecture addresses hospital architecture as a set of interlocked overlapping spatial and social conditions It identifies ways that planned for and latent functions of hospital spaces work jointly to produce desired outcomes such as greater patient safety increased scope for care provider communication and more intelligible corridors By advancing space syntax theory and methods the volume brings together emerging research on hospital environments Opening with a description of hospital architecture that emphasizes everyday relations the sequence of chapters takes an unusually comprehensive view that pairs spaces and occupants in hospitals the patient room and its intervisibility with adjacent spaces care teams and on ward support for their work and the intelligibility of public circulation spaces for visitors The final chapter moves outside the hospital to describe the current healthcare crisis of the global pandemic as it reveals how healthcare institutions must evolve to be adaptable in entirely new ways Reflective essays by practicing designers follow each chapter bringing perspectives from professional practice into the discussion The Covert Life of Hospital Architecture makes the case that latent dimensions of space as experienced have a surprisingly strong link to measurable outcomes providing new insights into how to better design hospitals through principles that have been tested empirically It will become a reference for healthcare planners designers architects and administrators as well as for readers from sociology psychology and other areas of the social sciences

Castañeda, 2014-11-01 In the wake of its early twentieth century civil wars Mexico strove to present itself to the world as unified and prosperous The preparation in Mexico City for the 1968 Summer Olympics was arguably the most ambitious of a sequence of design projects that aimed to signal Mexico's arrival in the developed world In Spectacular Mexico Luis M Castañeda demonstrates how these projects were used to create a spectacle of social harmony and ultimately to guide the nation's capital into becoming the powerful megacity we know today Not only the first Latin American country to host the Olympics but also the first Spanish speaking country Mexico's architectural transformation was put on international display From traveling exhibitions of indigenous archaeological artifacts to the construction of the Mexico City subway Spectacular Mexico details how these key projects placed the nation on the stage of global capitalism and revamped its status as a modernized country Surveying works of major architects such as Félix Candela Pedro Ramírez Vázquez Ricardo Legorreta and graphic designer Lance Wyman Castañeda illustrates the use of architecture and design as instruments of propaganda and nation branding Forming a kind of image economy Mexico's architectural projects and artifacts were at the heart of the nation's economic growth and cultivated a new mass audience at an international level Through an examination of one of the most important cosmopolitan moments in Mexico's history Spectacular Mexico positions architecture as central to the negotiation of social economic and political relations

Design for Transport Mike Tovey, 2016-04-15 The central premise of Design for Transport is that the designer's role is to approach design for transport from the point of view of the user People have a collection of wants and needs and a significant proportion of them are to do with their requirements for mobility The authors show how creative designers can take a user focused approach for a wide range of types of transport products and systems In so doing their starting point is one of creative dissatisfaction with what is currently available and their specialist capability is in imagining and developing new solutions which respond to that opportunity How this is tackled varies depending on the context and the variety of solutions produced reflects the different aspirations and needs of the people they are designing for The chapters cover user needs and transport design and the transport system transport design case studies and the case for the automobile A conclusion briefly signals what the future for transport design might be Lavishly illustrated throughout in four colour Design for Transport is an imaginative and rigorous guide to how designers can take a user centred and socially responsible approach to tackling a range of types of transport from systems to products and from bicycles to automobiles demonstrating a rich array of solutions through case studies
