Consumption Tania Lewis, Emily Potter, 2013-01-11 A not so quiet revolution seems to be occurring in wealthy capitalist societies supermarkets selling guilt free Fairtrade products lifestyle TV gurus exhorting us to eat less buy local and go green neighbourhood action groups bent on swopping not shopping And this is happening not at the margins of society but at its heart in the shopping centres and homes of ordinary people Today we are seeing a mainstreaming of ethical concerns around consumption that reflects an increasing anxiety with and accompanying sense of responsibility for the risks and excesses of contemporary lifestyles in the global north This collection of essays provides a range of critical tools for understanding the turn towards responsible or conscience consumption and in the process interrogates the notion that we can shop our way to a more ethical sustainable future Written by leading international scholars from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds and drawing upon examples from across the globe Ethical Consumption makes a major contribution to the still fledgling field of ethical consumption studies This collection is a must read for anyone interested in the relationship between consumer culture and contemporary social life

Perfection Margarette Lincoln, 2024-09-10 A colourful account of women s health beauty and cosmetic aids from stays and corsets to today s viral trends Victorian women ate arsenic to achieve an ideal pale complexion while in the 1790s balloon corsets were all the rage designed to make the wearer appear pregnant Women of the eighteenth century applied blood from a black cat s tail to problem skin while doctors in the 1880s promoted woollen underwear to keep colds at bay Beautification and the pursuit of health may seem all consuming today but their history is long and fantastically varied Ranging across the last four hundred years Margarette Lincoln examines women s health and beauty in fascinating detail Through first hand accounts and reports of physicians quacks and advertising Lincoln captures women s lived experience of consuming beauty products and the excitement and trauma of adopting the latest fashion trends Considering everything from body sculpture diet and exercise to skin teeth and hair Perfection is a vibrant account of women s body fashioning and shows how intimately these practices are related to community and identity throughout history
