

SOUND

A note on tuning: Jimi Hendrix almost always tuned down one half step (low to high: EE–AE–OE–OE–BE–EE). There are a few early songs on which he tuned normally—and others where he tuned lower than one half step down—but all of the examples here are played with the guitar tuned down one half step. You can use the accompanying track to tune with us that you'll be able to play along with the audio examples.

Purple Haze

From Are You Experienced (American release, 1967)

"Purple Haze" is one of Hendrix's earliest original compositions and was first released as his second single in England in March of 1967. The song wouldn't see its release as a single in the U.S. until June of 1967. As the opening track of the Jimi Hendrix debut album, Are You Experienced, this was the first Jimi Hendrix song ever heard by many. It has since become widely regarded as one of the greatest and most influential rock tracks of all time. For reference, the song transcription begins on page 11. (Note: on the original studio recording of the song, the guitar and bass are tuned to concert pitch as opposed to being tuned down one half step.)

Intro

The song's intro, often misinterpreted by guitarists and bassists alike, consists of the overlaying of contrasting octave shapes that are played in rhythmic unison. While the bass alternates between the notes of an E octave, the guitar alternates between the notes of a BE octave (see examples). The combination of these two figures creates the harmony of a triad, as E and BE are three whole steps apart from each other.

BE Octave (Guitar)

2E

The song then shifts to a signature single-note lick that's based on the E minor pentatonic scale (E–G–A–B–D) spanning an extended, three-octave range. Example 1 demonstrates the riff, and includes the "tuned shot" slides from the Gtr. 2 part (see the full transcription). Following this riff, Jim settles into a rhythmic part that is used as the foundation for the verse sections.

E Minor Pentatonic Scale (Extended Position)

Purple Haze - Example 1

Verse

The verse section of "Purple Haze" is a bit unusual in that it consists of a nine-bar form, the first six bars of which are derived from a repeated two-bar figure incorporating the chords E/Bb, G, and A. Note the use of the thumb to fret the bass notes of the G and A chords, rather than fingering a traditional barre-chord form. Jim also uses his plectrum to briefly sound bb, functioning here as a melodic chordal embellishment. This is made possible by his thumb-fretting technique, which frees up several first-hand fingers for these types of embellishment.
