Note: Having a large number of data may result in a large number of data points. These are typically not statistical data, but a small amount of data (for example, 1000 or 10000, but not 1000000).

It is important to note that a small number of data points may result in a large number of data points, but not a large number of data points.

Graphs: There is more information, including a diagram, which can be used to graphically represent the data. The diagram is a small number of data points, but not a large number of data points.
