Answers to Conceptual Questions	1
---------------------------------------	---

ANSWERS TO CONCEPTUAL QUESTIONS

Note to Instructors: Student answers will vary. The responses here are intended to provide general guidance in terms of concepts that could be discussed.

- C.1. An airline analyst wishes to estimate the proportion of all American adults who are afraid to fly because of potential terrorist attacks. To estimate this percentage, the analyst decides to survey 1500 Americans from across the nation. Identify the relevant sample and population in this situation.

Answer: The relevant population consists of all people (adults?) in the U.S. who would consider flying commercially. This might be discovered by a survey of a lot of people (several thousand?) that first asks whether they ever have flown or might fly in the future and then asks whether the fear of terrorist attacks would change their minds. Only the people responding “Yes” to the first question would remain in the sample for analyzing the second question.

- C.2. The number of children living in each of a large number of randomly selected households is an example of which data type? Be specific.

Answer: The “number of children” is a count, so this is a discrete data type.

- C.3. Does it make sense to construct a histogram for the state of residence of randomly selected individuals in a sample? Explain why or why not.

Answer: A histogram is typically relevant only for a continuous variable that is binned into discrete categories, so it isn’t relevant here. A column chart of counts in states is relevant, and it’s a close relative of a histogram.

- C.4. Characterize the likely shape of a histogram of the distribution of scores on a midterm exam in a graduate statistics course.
