Silent Voices A Family Memoir:

Silent Voices Judith Favor, 2014-12-17 This memoir's unsparing look at Leo and Cordelia Wright has bite and gravity. Two quiet people viewed through the lens of compassion offers fresh perspectives on the multiple causes and consequences of unspoken emotion. In 1912 the banker and the stenographer fell wildly in love. They were wed and buried her mother shortly before becoming proud parents. In 1929 Leo lost his livelihood and his pride. The prickly silences began. In 1934 his jobless father abandoned his mother. The bank foreclosed leaving Margaret Mary Wright homeless. Leo and Cordelia faced a tough decision. Eventually they packed his elderly mother off to Oregon's public institution for paupers. The silences increased in intensity and hostility. In 1942 Leo went to work building naval vessels in the Kaiser shipyard. A crime caused Cordelia to distrust him, dropping Leo into extended silences of longing, guilt, and hope for reconciliation. In 1945 he was killed. Cordelia, a widow now with two adolescents to support, sought divine assistance on how to make a living. Prayerful silence soon led to her support of orphaned Japanese schoolgirls, a radical commitment in racist post-war Oregon. Across her lifespan, my grandmother experienced shaming silence, bonding silence, confusing silence, punishing silence, and finally revelatory silence. This memoir illustrates how the myriad facets of silence can impact personal and social relationships for harm or for healing.

A Winter in Washington; or, Memoirs of the Family, 1824      A winter in Washington; or, Memoirs of the Seymour family. Repr. Seymour fict. family, 1824      Betwixt and Between Brenda Ayres, 2017-06-15 Betwixt and Between identifies the biases, errors, and ambiguities that have run rampant in the biographies on Mary Wollstonecraft; many of them left unchecked and perpetuated from publication to publication. Brenda Ayres investigates the agenda, problems, and strengths of eighteen critical biographies, beginning with William Godwin's Memoirs (1798) ending with Charlotte Gordon's Romantic Outlaws (2015) and including ten lesser-known biographies. Betwixt and Between synthesizes the biographies, exposes gaps and contradictions, and attempts to fill and reconcile them, supplying in the process considerable information on Wollstonecraft that has never before been published.      The Newcomes. Pendennis Esqre. By William M. Thackeray. With Illustrations William Makepeace Thackeray, 1860      Cooking Greek. Becoming American Taso G. Lagos, 2022-01-12 When Taso G. Lagos began to memorialize his family's beloved Greek restaurant, The Continental, he wrestled with 40 years of history and a clientele that stretched for generations. His family bought into the operation without a clue how to run an eatery, yet in time they became linchpins of their Seattle neighborhood. Customers became friends, and meals turned into memories. It wasn't only the food or the company, though. The Continental also served as an entry point into mainstream culture for a family who had just arrived in the United States as Greek immigrants a few years prior. While the Lagos family cooked and cared for many people, they also learned valuable lessons about what it means to be American. This memoir illuminates life in a Greek restaurant through the experiences of one member of a restauranteur family. It also emphasizes the role of restaurants as vital social institutions that often provide immigrants with a dynamic space for acculturation Readers will learn the many ways a family restaurant adds culture and richness to a community

John Fitzgerald Kennedy Michael J. Hogan, 2017-03-03 This book analyzes the social construction of John Fitzgerald Kennedy's memory in the arts literature and in the many monuments erected in his honor Select family memoirs James BACKHOUSE (of York, the Elder.), 1831 Latina/os and World War II Maggie Rivas-Rodriguez, B. V. Olguín, 2014-04-15 This eye opening anthology documents for the first time the effects of World War II on Latina o personal and political beliefs across a broad spectrum of ethnicities and races within the Latina o identity In Her Own Voice Katherine Martens, Heidi Harms, 1997-05-06 Winnipeg writer Katherine Martens interviewed 26 women from the Mennonite community in southern Manitoba ranging in age from 22 to 88 years old They had many different backgrounds but they all had one important characteristic all were mothers In the course of these interviews Martens was searching for answers to questions that affected her both as a Mennonite and as a woman How did they feel when they learned of the pregnancy How did they choose home or hospital birth How did the traditions of the Mennonite culture affect them as wives and mothers As they talked many spoke about the joys and trials of giving birth and they also told Martens stories about other parts of their lives Some had escaped the Russian Revolution to emigrate to Canada others spent their entire lives in rural Manitoba part of the close knit Mennonite community running farms and bearing as many as 15 children Younger women who had formally left the Mennonite church were still conscious of the impact of the beliefs and customs on their lives Many women were surprised to be approached for an interview insisting that they had no stories to tell One was visited in a dream by her dead husband who told her to leave that alone Yet in the privacy of their kitchens and parlours over sociable cups of tea many did share with Martens their private fears and joys about what was often seen as a rite of passage into responsible adulthood and they recalled that childbirth could be a difficult and at times traumatic event but it could also be a radiant and spiritual experience Catalogue Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge, 1902 *The Self-Explanatory Family Bible ... with ... Buried City, Unearthing Teufelsberg Benedict Anderson, 2017-07-06 Cities are built over the remnants of their past buried beneath their present We build on what has been built before whether over foundations formalising previous permanency or over the temporal occupations of ground But what happens when you shift a city when you dislodge its occupation of ground towards a new ground bury it and forget it Focusing on Berlin's destruction during World War II and its reconstruction after the end of the war this book offers a rethinking of how the practices of destruction and burial combine to reform the city through geography and how burying a city is intricately tied to forgetting destruction ruination and trauma Created from 25 million cubic meters of rubble produced during World War II Teufelsberg Devil's Mountain is the exemplar of the destroyed city Its critical journey is chronicled in combination with Berlin's seven other rubble hills and their connections to constructing forgetting through burial Furthermore the book investigates Berlin's sublime relation to Albert Speer's urban vision to rival the ancient cities of Rome and Athens through their now shared geographies of seven hills

Finally there is a central focus on the role of the citizens who cleared Berlin's streets of rubble and the subsequent human relationships between people and ruins This book is valuable reading for those interested in Architectural Theory Urban Geography Modern History and Urban Design

Witness Between Languages Peter Davies, Peter J. Davies, 2018 A growing body of scholarship is making visible the contribution of translators to the creation preservation and transmission of knowledge about the Holocaust The discussion has tended to be theoretical or to concentrate on exposing the distorted translations of texts by important witnesses such as Anne Frank or Elie Wiesel There is therefore a need for a positive concrete and contextually aware approach to the translation of Holocaust testimonies that acknowledges the achievements of translators while being sensitive to the consequences of particular translation strategies Peter Davies's study proceeds from the assumption that translators are active co creators whose work does not simply mediate a pre existing text but creates a representation of that text for a new readership in a specific context Translators of Holocaust testimonies then provide a form of textual commentary that works through ideas about witnessing historical truth and the meaning of the Holocaust In this way they are important co creators of knowledge about the Holocaust and its legacy The study focuses on translations between English and German and from other languages principally French Russian and Polish into English and German It works through a number of case studies showing how making translation and its effects visible contributes to a clearer understanding of how knowledge about the Holocaust has been and continues to be created and mediated Peter Davies is Professor of German at the University of Edinburgh

Auto/Biography across the Americas Riccia A. Chansky, 2016-08-05 Auto biographical narratives of the Americas are marked by the underlying themes of movement and belonging This collection proposes that the impact of the historic or contemporary movement of peoples to in and from the Americas whether chosen or forced motivates the ways in which identities are constructed in this contested space Such movement results in a cyclical quest to belong and to understand belonging that reverberates through narratives of the Americas The volume brings together essays written from diverse national cultural linguistic and disciplinary perspectives to trace these transnational motifs in life writing across the Americas Drawing on international scholars from the seemingly disparate regions of the Americas North America the Caribbean and Latin America this book extends critical theories of life writing beyond limiting national boundaries The scholarship included approaches narrative inquiry from the fields of literature linguistics history art history sociology anthropology political science pedagogy gender studies critical race studies and indigenous studies As a whole this volume advances discourse in auto biography studies life writing and identity studies by locating transnational themes in narratives of the Americas and placing them in international and interdisciplinary conversations
