The Responsive University and the Crisis in South Africa, 2021-05-31 Around the world higher education is faced with a fundamental question what is the basis for our claim of societal legitimacy In this book the authors go beyond the classical response regarding teaching research and community engagement Instead the editor puts forward the proposition that the answer lies in responsiveness the extent to which universities respond or fail to respond to societal challenges Moreover because of its intractable legacy issues and crisis of inequality the question regarding the societal legitimacy of universities is particularly clearly manifested in South Africa one of the most unequal countries in the world The Responsive University brings together contributions on the issue of responsiveness from a number of international university leaders half of them specifically addressing the South African situation within the context of the international situation as presented by the other authors In the global discussion about the role of universities in society this book provides a conceptual framework for a way forward

Shadow Libraries Joe Karaganis, 2018-05-04 How students get the materials they need as opportunities for higher education expand but funding shrinks From the top down Shadow Libraries explores the institutions that shape the provision of educational materials from the formal sector of universities and publishers to the broadly informal ones organized by faculty copy shops student unions and students themselves It looks at the history of policy battles over access to education in the post World War II era and at the narrower versions that have played out in relation to research and textbooks from library policies to book subsidies to more recently the several open publication models that have emerged in the higher education sector From the bottom up Shadow Libraries explores how simply students get the materials they need It maps the ubiquitous practice of photocopying and what are in many cases the more marginal ones of buying books visiting libraries and downloading from unauthorized sources It looks at the informal networks that emerge in many contexts to share materials from face to face student networks to Facebook groups and at the processes that lead to the consolidation of some of those efforts into more organized archives that circulate offline and sometimes online the shadow libraries of the title If Alexandra Elbakyan's Sci Hub is the largest of these efforts to date the more characteristic part of her story is the prologue the personal struggle to participate in global scientific and educational communities and the recourse to a wide array of ad hoc strategies and networks when formal authorized means are lacking If Elbakyan's story has struck a chord it is in part because it brings this contradiction in the academic project into sharp relief universalist in principle and unequal in practice Shadow Libraries is a study of that tension in the digital era Contributors Balzs Bod Laura Czerniewicz Mirosław Filiciak Mariana Fossatti Jorge Gernet Eve Gray Evelin Heidel Joe Karaganis Lawrence Liang Pedro Mizukami Jhessica Reia Alek Tarkowski

Financing Higher Education Worldwide D. Bruce Johnstone,Pamela N.

Marcucci,2010-06-07 No issue in higher education is as salient or as controversial as finance As demand for higher education around the world grows so do the costs associated with it especially as governments shoulder less of the burden Tuition fees rise and student loan debt grows Who pays for these surging costs Who should pay D Bruce Johnstone and Pamela N Marcucci examine the universal phenomenon of cost sharing in higher education where financial responsibility shifts from governments and taxpayers to students and families They find that growing costs for education far outpace public revenue streams that once supported it Even with financial aid and scholarships defraying some of these costs students are responsible for a greater share of the cost of higher education Featuring comprehensive economic and policy data the authors international comparative approach shows how economically diverse countries all face similar cost sharing challenges So who should pay for higher education While cost sharing is both politically and ideologically debated Johnstone and Marcucci contend that for almost all countries it is imperative for the financial health of colleges and universities bringing better efficiency equity and responsiveness Financing Higher Education Worldwide combines sophisticated economic explanations with sensitive political and cultural analyses of the financial pressures facing higher education throughout the world

Government Managing Risk Bruce Chapman,2006-09-27 Higher education rates are increasing throughout the Western world yet at the same time government budgets face increasing constraints This has ensured that the importance of student support is recognized in many countries In recent years there has been a world wide movement towards the use of income contingent loans ICL for higher education ICLs are now used in six countries following the Australian innovation of 1989 with the governments of many more countries looking very seriously at the model This impressive new book by Bruce Chapman analyzes ICLs particularly their use in supporting students exploring the experiences of a number of other countries adopting them Chapman presents analysis of a number of disparate case studies to illustrate how ICLs can aid risk management policy reforming in both progressive and administratively feasible ways This book describes examines and promotes an exciting new role for the public sector as a manager of risk and argues that ICLs have enormous potential to change the extent and nature of social and economic activities With the author s experience in the design and implementation of the Australian student financial support schemes this is a knowledgeable informative and enlightening book that will be useful to researchers students and policy makers alike

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr.,Vijay Reddy,2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place There are high and low income countries and high and low income households For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country s developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy Access to Success and Social Mobility through Higher Education Stuart Billingham,2018-08-23 This collection of essays illuminates the benefits drawbacks challenges and opportunities of the push to widen access to success and social mobility through university and other post secondary education experiences in the UK and internationally The Youth Dividend Jan H. QUALITY OF LIFE SURVEY V (2017/18) THE QUALITY OF LIFE OF STUDENTS IN GAUTENG Christian Hamann,Kate Joseph,2020-07-29 GCRO Data Brief on quality of life of students Higher Education ,2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world s economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises The State of Online Education Goals and Challenges of Online Learning and Innovations in the Age of COVID It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic In Pursuit of Epistemic Healing in South African Universities Wanelisa Xaba,2025-09-30 This book demonstrates the epistemic challenges in the South African education system and asks readers to think critically about the university s role in a decolonial future Wanelisa Xaba reveals how Western colonial educational models severed indigenous ways of knowing and learning across the Global South and settler colonial contexts Presenting narratives capturing ongoing histories of violence this book shows how Black South African students navigate intersecting identities of race class gender and spirituality within university settings It shows how racial discrimination from fellow students academics and staff coupled with discriminatory language policies financial exclusion and violent colonial curricula affects Black students wellbeing on university campuses Xaba argues that these intersecting colonial violences mirror spiritual violence hinder their holistic citizenship in South African universities and result in psycho spiritual disease By centring Black students voices this book provides crucial insights for educators policymakers activists healers and institutions committed to creating affirming academic spaces and epistemic healing It is an insightful read for scholars researching decoloniality in higher education as well as students of feminist studies decolonial theory educational justice and critical university studies

Going to University. The Influence of Higher Education on the Lives of Young South Africans Jennifer Case, Delia Marshall, 2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities
