

Title - Sugarless yet sweet

Having diabetes is tough

You have to resist sweets

No excuse is good enough

Let it be big portions or big sweets

Galactose is known as the the brain sugar

Life without sweets sucks like having a tumor

Pancreas is angry not secreting enough insulin

But that's fine we'll get through it

Medicine everyday is necessary

Can't leave them our best buddies

Sugar free products are like miracle

A light at the end of the tunnel

A little discipline and strictness for diabetes

Can lead to fitness and is the best remedy

Health is most important for a human being

Let's still enjoy a life that's sugarless yet sweet !

Similes About Diabetes:

The Amazing Language of Medicine Robert B. Taylor, 2017-01-23 This book tells the intriguing and often colorful stories of the medical words we use The origins of clinical and scientific terms can be found in Greek and Latin myths in places such as jungles of Uganda and the islands of the Aegean Sea in the names of medicine's giants such as Hippocrates and Osler and in some truly unlikely sources In this book you will learn the answers to questions such as What disease was named for an American space flight Do you know the echoic word for elephantine rumbling of the bowels What drug name was determined by drawing chemists' notes out of a hat What are surfer's eye clam digger's itch and hide porter's disease This book can give you new insights into the terms we use every day in the clinic hospital and laboratory Knowing a word's history assists in understanding not only what it means but also some of the connotative subtleties of terms used in diagnosis and treatment The Amazing Language of Medicine is intended for the enrichment of physicians other health professionals students and anyone involved in clinical care and medical science

Discourse In and Through the Media Marina Bondi, Silvia Cacchiani, 2016-01-14 This book is a result of the 2013 CLAVIER Conference held in Modena in November 2013 and includes a selection of the papers presented on that occasion As the title suggests this volume encourages cross generic and cross disciplinary investigations in order to advocate integrated approaches to the study of media discourse regarding both theoretical background and practical applications Bringing together a wide range of case studies the book fosters debate on a variety of aspects related to the representation of specialised discourse in and through the media including for example voice and point of view argumentative practices knowledge construction multimodality the re contextualization and re conceptualization of knowledge opinion formation and peer to peer communication and popularization in and through traditional digital and social media Taken together the contributions to this volume provide extensive exemplification of the type of research currently being conducted on these issues The variety of the questions posed and the wide array of methods used here therefore represent a substantial contribution to sharpening existing knowledge and furthering the ongoing debate among scholars in the field

Cross-pollinations Gary Paul Nabhan, 2004 A pioneering ethnobotanist Gary Paul Nabhan credits the arts with sparking unlikely scientific breakthroughs and believes that such cross pollination engenders new forms of expression that are essential to discovery In this highly readable book he tells four stories to illustrate this idea In the first coping with color blindness in art class leads to his career as a scientist in the second ancient American Indian songs when translated reveal an understanding of plants and animals that rivals modern research in the third a poem inspires an approach to diabetes using desert plants and in the fourth a coalition of scientists and artists creates the Ironwood Forest National Monument in the Sonoran Desert
