The warm sun was shining brightly and the gentle lapping of waves on the shore was sending Harry to sleep. Gulls circled gracefully above him, squawking occasionally to each other, and a dog barked excitedly in the distance as it splashed around in the water. Life couldn't get much better than this. Harry's eyes closed and the distant noises began to sound even further away as sleep slowly crept over him.

Slowly but surely, his ears began to pick up a noise that he was finding difficult to ignore. There it was again. A loud, scraping metallic noise. It was dragging Harry out of his sleep and forcing him to focus on the world around him again.

Reluctantly, he sat himself up and blinked his sleepy eyes, attempting to focus on his surroundings. He stared, eyes wide open now, unable to believe what he was seeing. The blue sky, circling gulls, lapping waves and playful dog had gone. He was now sat on a cold, hard floor, surrounded by four white walls. Where was the door? Why weren't there any windows? Where on Earth was he?

Year 3 English Reading Ks2 Sats 1998:

Reading Development and Teaching Morag Stuart, Rhona Stainthorp, 2015-12-07 This textbook will prove invaluable to teacher educators, teachers, educational psychologists and any professional who is involved with teaching children to read. It provides a detailed examination of the processes that are involved in achieving fluent word reading skills and ability to comprehend written texts. Understanding these processes and their development empowers teachers to select appropriate evidence-based teaching strategies and thus teach children more effectively. The book is in four parts. Part 1 provides the reader with a Tutorial Review covering essential knowledge about language and presenting the two dimensions of the Simple View of Reading. Part 2 concentrates on the word reading dimension with chapters on processes in skilled word reading, the development of these processes and practical advice on research-validated teaching methods to develop children's word reading skills. Part 3 turns to the language comprehension dimension with chapters on the comprehension of oral and written language and on teaching reading comprehension. Part 4 introduces the reader to assessment practices and methods of identifying children with difficulties in either or both dimensions of the Simple View and considers children with word reading difficulties and children with specific comprehension difficulties, describing effective evidence-based interventions for each type of difficulty.

British Education Index, 2001

Debates in Primary Education Virginia Bower, 2020-10-19

This powerful text encourages both pre-service and established teachers as well as teacher educators to engage with contemporary debates in primary education. Promoting a critical approach, the chapters explore a wide range of key themes including the importance of values in primary education and the imperative for a curriculum which embraces the whole range of available subjects. At the same time, the chapters are underpinned by a belief that children should be at the heart of all the decisions we make and that primary education should inspire a love of learning for life. The book aims to support practitioners to make informed judgements and feel confident to argue their point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding, thus increasing teacher agency and confidence in responding to complex educational and social dilemmas such as literacy levels and rising mental health concerns. Chapters encompass both the macro aspects of primary education and more specialised debates on key topics such as reading, mathematics, languages, early years education and the use of technology. With annotated further reading and reflective questions, this key text is essential reading for all those wanting to develop a better understanding of the issues that shape their practice, including student teachers at both undergraduate and postgraduate level, practising teachers engaged in continuing professional development and teacher educators.
