THEORY  QUESTION  ANSWER

1. The following are the components of the theory of evolution:

- The theory of evolution states that all life forms have evolved from a common ancestor.
- The theory of evolution states that the environment plays a role in the survival of the fittest.
- The theory of evolution states that the genetic code is passed on from one generation to the next.
- The theory of evolution states that the fossil record provides evidence of the changes in life forms over time.

2. The theory of evolution is supported by the following evidence:

- The fossil record shows the progression of life forms from simple to complex.
- The genetic code is shared by all life forms, indicating a common ancestor.
- The environment plays a role in the survival of the fittest, as seen in the case of the peppered moth.
- The theory of evolution is supported by the discovery of new species and the study of existing ones.

3. The theory of evolution is a scientific theory, which means it is a well-substantiated explanation of some aspect of the natural world, based on a body of knowledge that has been gathered through observation, experimentation, and reasoning.
