Calling Natasha Trethewey Mexico 1969 Why not make a fiction of the mind's fictions I want to say it begins like this the trip a pilgrimage my mother kneeling at the altar of the Black Virgin enthralled light streaming in a window the sun at her back holy water in a bowl she must have touched What's left is palimpsest one memory bleeding into another overwriting it How else to explain what remains The sound of water in a basin I know is white the sun behind her light streaming in her face as if she were already dead blurred as it will become I want to imagine her before the altar rising to meet us my father lifting me toward her outstretched arms What else to make of the mind's slick confabulations What comes back is the sun's dazzle on a pool's surface light filtered through water closing over my head my mother her body between me and the high sun a corona of light around her face Why not call it a vision What I know is this I was drowning and saw a dark Madonna someone pulled me through the water's bright ceiling and I rose initiate from one life into another

This Impermanent Earth Douglas Carlson, Soham Patel, 2021-09-01 With its thirty-three essays This Impermanent Earth charts the course of the American literary response to the twentieth century's accumulation of environmental deprivations Arranged chronologically from 1974 to the present the works have been culled from The Georgia Review long considered an important venue for nonfiction among literary magazines published in the United States The essays range in subject matter from twentieth century examples of what was then called nature writing through writing after 2000 that gradually redefines the environment in increasingly human terms to a more inclusive expansion that considers all human surroundings as material for environmental inquiry Likewise the approaches range from formal essays to prose works that reflect the movement toward innovation and experimentation The collection builds as it progresses later essays grow from earlier ones This Impermanent Earth is more than a historical survey of a literary form however The Georgia Review s talented writers and its longtime commitment to the art of editorial practice have produced a collection that is as one reviewer put it incredibly moving varied and inspiring It is a book that will be as at home in the reading room as in the classroom

The Cloud Path Melissa Kwasny, 2024-04-23 An imaginative reworking of the elegy that focuses on the difficult work of being with the dying At the heart of The Cloud Path celebrated author Melissa Kwasny s seventh collection of poetry lies the passing of her beloved mother the caretaking the hospice protocols the last breath the aftermath Simultaneously she must also reckon with an array of global crises environmental decline the arrival of a pandemic divisive social tensions With so much loss building up around her Kwasny turns to the natural world for guidance walking paths lined with aspen snow geese and prickly pears I have come here for their peace and instructions she writes listening to the willows the slant rhyme of their multi limbed clatter What she finds is a new more seasoned kind of solace The Cloud Path glimmers with nature s many lively colors the burnt orange of foxes cedar bark cast in the greenest impasto white swans intertwined It also embraces the world s harsher elements a dark bog s purple stench a hayfield empty of birds Witnessing life s constant ebb and flow the weight of personal and collective grief gradually becomes lighter The shapes of clouds cattle bones by the river Why not she asks believe it matters Evocative and wrenching The Cloud Path compels us to consider the whole of living and dying An elegant juxtaposition of personal and planetary loss these keen and tender poems teach us to see afresh in the lateness of things

Museum of the Americas J. Michael Martinez, 2018-10-02 Longlisted for the 2018 National Book Award in Poetry Winner of the National Poetry Series Competition selected by Cornelius Eady an exploration in verse of imperial appropriation and Mexican American cultural identity Marvelous argumentative and curiosity provoking The New York Times Book Review The poems in J Michael Martinez s third collection of poetry circle around how the perceived body comes to be coded with the trans historical consequences of an imperial narrative Engaging beautiful and otherworldly Mexican casta paintings morbid photographic postcards depicting the bodies of dead Mexicans the strange journey of the wood and cork leg of General Santa Anna and Martinez s own family lineage Museum of the Americas gives accounts of migrant bodies caught beneath and fashioned under a racializing aesthetic gaze Martinez questions how knowledge of the body is organized through visual perception of that body hypothesizing the corporeal as a repository of the human situation a nexus of culture Museum of the Americas poetic revives and repurposes the persecuted ethnic body from the appropriations that render it an art object and therefore disposable

La Far Eric Linster, 2014-03 How far are we from the Lake District How far from the garden Eric Linster s first book scrolls down the Anthropocene tracking our passage through a technophilic pastoral where work and play are both forms of making others suffer in order to exist In La Far the world is faraway near a hell conveniently elsewhere in which workers bundle Foxconn s rare earths into the frosty kits that return us our content but also the sea meeting land as it always has Both are singable conditions and lead irreversibly to odes equally comfortable with praise and lament The poems in La Far hope that by making the abstract concrete and the concrete abstract literalizing a nightingale beyond knowledge we might construct what Wordsworth called a Common Day a communized life partaken of by all

Where Outside the Body Is the Soul Today Melissa Kwasny, 2017-10-02 Where Outside the Body Is the Soul Today comprises two interwoven series one of linked prose poems called Another Letter to the Soul and one of individual lined poems that explore the connection between anima and animal The volume speaks to and questions the ancient concept of the soul and its contemporary manifestations including the damaged soul the American soul and the blind gagged soul of history Melissa Kwasny does not define the soul in traditional religious terms but in a shamanic perhaps ecological sense as the part of being that continues its existence after death The poems in Another Letter to the Soul point inward addressing the human soul directly while the individual lined poems search outward sensing the soul in the plants animals rocks waters and winds that surround us Tales of Dionysus Nonnus (of Panopolis), 2022-08-15 The first English verse translation of the Dionysiaca of Nonnus of Panopolis Poetry & Commons Daniel Eltringham, 2022-05-13 Winner of the ASLE UKI Book Prize 2023 The commons and enclosure are among the most vital ways of thinking about poetry today posing urgent ecological and political questions about land and resource ownership and use Poetry Commons is the first study to read postwar and contemporary poetry through this lens by putting it in dialogue with the Romantic experience of agrarian dispossession Employing an innovative transhistorical structure the book demonstrates how radical Anglophone poetries since 1960 have returned to the enclosure of the commons in response to political and ecological crises It identifies a commons turn in contemporary lyric that contests the new enclosures of globalized capital and resource extraction In lucid close readings of a rich field of experimental poetries associated with the British Poetry Revival as well as from Canada and the United States it analyses a landscape poetics of enclosure in relationship with Romantic verse Canonical Romantic poetry by Wordsworth and Clare is understood through the fine grain textures of the period s vernacular and radical verse and discourse around enclosure which the book demonstrates contain the seeds of neoliberal political economy Engaging with the work of Anne Lise Fran ois and Anna Tsing Poetry Commons theorizes commoning as marking out subsistence rhythms of resource which articulate plural irregular and tentative relations between human and nonhuman lifeworlds The Contemporary Elegy in World Literature , 2025-01-20 This volume navigates the entangled expressions of mourning across languages cultures and traditions shedding light on the evolving shapes and discourses of contemporary elegy in world literature By adopting a transnational approach this collection offers a much needed conceptualization of what elegy has become today Contributors are Nick Admussen Adele Bardazzi Roberto Binetti Emily Drumsta Francesco Giusti Roberto Gaudioso Gail Holst Warhaft Karen Leeder Brandon Menke Jahan Ramazani Rachel Elizabeth Robinson David Sherman and Ivanna Sang Een Yi American Poets in the 21st Century Claudia Rankine, Michael Dowdy, 2018-09-04 Poetics of Social Engagement emphasizes the ways in which innovative American poets have blended art and social awareness focusing on aesthetic experiments and investigations of ethnic racial gender and class subjectivities Rather than consider poetry as a thing apart or as a tool for asserting identity this volume s poets create sites forms and modes for entering the public sphere contesting injustices and reimagining the contemporary Like the earlier anthologies in this series this volume includes generous selections of poetry as well as illuminating poetics statements and incisive essays This unique organization makes these books invaluable teaching tools A companion website will present audio of each poet s work Poets included Rosa Alcal Brian Blanchfield Daniel Borzutzky Carmen Gim nez Smith Allison Hedge Coke Cathy Park Hong Christine Hume Bhanu Kapil Mauricio Kilwein Guevara Fred Moten Craig Santos Perez Barbara Jane Reyes Roberto Tejada Edwin Torres Essayists

André du Bouchet Emma Wagstaff,2020-08-03 In Andr du Bouchet Poetic Forms of Attention Emma Wagstaff provides the first book length study in English of this major poet of the second half of the twentieth century She shows how Du Bouchet s rigorous and innovative creative and critical writing advances our understanding of attention Du Bouchet is known as a post war poet of the natural world and the space of the page Far from just a solitary writer however he engaged with others through his work as editor critic and translator and his involvement in the protests of May 1968 Emma Wagstaff shows how his writing demonstrates nuanced attention to language time nature and art and incites a slow response on the part of the reader

Recomposing Ecopoetics Lynn Keller,2018-01-16 In the first book devoted exclusively to the ecopoetics of the twenty first century Lynn Keller examines poetry of what she terms the self conscious Anthropocene a period in which there is widespread awareness of the scale and severity of human effects on the planet Recomposing Ecopoetics analyzes work written since the year 2000 by thirteen North American poets including Evelyn Reilly Juliana Spahr Ed Roberson and Jena Osman all of whom push the bounds of literary convention as they seek forms and language adequate to complex environmental problems Drawing as often on linguistic experimentalism as on traditional literary resources these poets respond to environments transformed by people and take nature to be a far more inclusive and culturally imbricated category than conventional nature poetry does This interdisciplinary study not only brings cutting edge work in ecocriticism to bear on a diverse archive of contemporary environmental poetry it also offers the environmental humanities new ways to understand the cultural and affective dimensions of the Anthropocene

Sea Summit Yi Lu,2015-11-10 Translated to English this collection of contemporary Chinese poetry examines humanity s relationship with nature and the ecological crisis Influenced by both the gray sinister sea near the village where Yi Lu grew up during the Cultural Revolution and the beauty of the sea in the books she read as a child Sea Summit is a collection of paradox and questioning The sea is an impossible force to the poet it is both a majestic presence that predates man and something to carry with us wherever we go to be put by an ancient rattan chair so we can watch its waves toss from above Exploring the current ecological crisis and our complicated relationship to the wildness around us Yi Lu finds something more complex than a traditional nature poet might in the mysterious connection between herself and the forces of nature represented by the boundless ocean Translated brilliantly by the acclaimed poet Fiona Sze Lorrain this collection of poems introduces an important contemporary Chinese poet to English language readers Praise for Sea Summit Yi Lu is a theatre scenographer and her poems brim with the imagistic tendencies we might expect from a visual artist More specifically her poetic style fits that of a theatrical set designer Within the poetry of Sea Summit the images are like set pieces They play supporting roles as they help to tell the speaker s stories Sensitive and poignant poetry The Literary Review A compilation of over twenty years of work Yi s poetry shows the world as staggeringly simultaneous from a crowded conference room in the middle of the city to the titular wave rising under the incredible volume of the ocean This collection is a great introduction to Yi Lu already one of the most widely read poets in China The Los Angeles Review With this selection of more than 80 of her ecologically conscious lyric poems Yi receives a generous introduction to English readers The pastoral is Yi's mode of choice and the poems here take as their subject matter the natural world as well as the human experience of it Sze Lorrain's steadfast translations presented en face make accessible one of China's most famous woman poets Publishers Weekly

Attention Equals Life Andrew Epstein, 2016 Poetry has long been thought of as a genre devoted to grand subjects timeless themes and sublime beauty Why then have contemporary poets turned with such intensity to documenting and capturing the everyday and mundane Drawing on insights about the nature of everyday life from philosophy history and critical theory Andrew Epstein traces the modern history of this preoccupation and considers why it is so much with us today Attention Equals Life argues that a potent hunger for everyday life explodes in the post 1945 period as a reaction to the rapid unsettling transformations of this epoch which have resulted in a culture of perilous distraction Epstein demonstrates that poetry is an important and perhaps unlikely cultural form that has mounted a response and even a mode of resistance to a culture suffering from an acute crisis of attention In this timely and engaging study Epstein examines why a compulsion to represent the everyday becomes predominant in the decades after modernism and why it has so often sparked genre bending formal experimentation With chapters devoted to illuminating readings of a diverse group of writers including poets associated with influential movements like the New York School language poetry and conceptual writing the book considers the variety of forms contemporary poetry of everyday life has taken and analyzes how gender race and political forces all profoundly inflect the experience and the representation of the quotidian By exploring the rise of experimental realism as a poetic mode and the turn to rule governed everyday life projects Attention Equals Life offers a new way of understanding a vital strain at the heart of twentieth and twenty first century literature It not only charts the evolution of a significant concept in cultural theory and poetry but also reminds readers that the quest to pay attention to the everyday within today s frenetic world of and social media is an urgent and unending task Till One Day the Sun Shall Shine More Brightly Derek Pollard,2020-01-29 Since the publication of From the Abandoned Cities in 1983 Donald Revell has been among the more consistent influencers in American poetry and poetics Yet his work has achieved the status it has his honors include fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Guggenheim Foundation and awards from the PEN Center USA and American Poetry Review in a manner that has often tended to belie its abiding significance This collection of essays reviews and interviews is designed to ignite a more wide ranging critical appraisal of Revell s writing from his fourteen collections of poems to his acclaimed translations of French symbolist and modernist poets to his artfully constructed literary criticism Contributors such as Marjorie Perloff Stephanie Burt Dan Beachy Quick and Bruce Bond examine key elements in and across Revell s work from his visionary postmodernism Our words can never say the mystery of our meanings but there they are spoken and meaning worlds to us to his poetics of radical attention And so a poem has nothing to do with picking and choosing with the mot juste and reflection in tranquility It is a plain record of one s entire presence in order to enlarge our understanding of how and why that work has come to occupy the place that it has in contemporary American letters "US" Poets Foreign Poets / Noi poeți "americani" poeți străini MARGENTO,Alan Sondheim,mIEKAL aND,David Jhave Johnston,Chris Funkhouser,Brian Kim Stefans,Maria Mencia,John Cayley & Daniel C.
