The Architecture Of Home In Cairo:

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Dr Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2015-01-28 This book firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2016-03-03 The hawari of Cairo narrow non straight alleyways are the basic urban units that have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD Until early in the C20th they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature Contemporary hawari by contrast are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity This medieval urban maze of extremely short broken zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories powerful institutions and important social systems While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies this book is the first to examine in detail the socio spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city It investigates how people live communicate and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys and in doing so to uncover several new socio spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form In an attempt to re establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understand architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so explores the in depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public

The History of Architectural Education in the Middle East and North Africa Farhan Karim, Mohammad Gharipour, 2024-12-31 The History of Architectural Education in the Middle East and North Africa explores the varied socio political landscapes within which different architectural programs and schools were established across Middle Eastern and North African countries It addresses a significant gap in our understanding of the diverse strategies and paths through which architectural pedagogy underwent institutionalization and standardization during nineteenth and twentieth centuries This process of modernization was greatly influenced by rapidly evolving socio economic conditions and the interests of the real estate market Concurrently architectural educators and institutions responded to public demands for more inclusive urban environments shaping the social ambitions and expectations of emerging modern cities Karim and Gharipour present an interconnected and parallel history of these institutions through a series of case studies They argue that architectural pedagogy and its stakeholders didn't solely shape the technical discourse of the building industry Instead their activism and advocacy collectively ignited epistemological debates concerning the perception of modern urban society and its direction

The Home in the Digital Age Antonio Argandoña, Joy Malala, Richard Peatfield, 2021-05-30 The Home in the Digital Age is a set of multidisciplinary studies exploring the impact of digital technologies in the home with a shift of emphasis from technology to the people living and using this in their homes The book covers a wide variety of topics on the design introduction and use of digital technologies in the home combining the technological dimension with the cognitive emotional cultural and symbolic dimensions of the objects that incorporate digital technologies and project them onto people's lives It offers a coherent approach that of the home which gives unity to the discussion Scholars of the home the house and the family will find here the connection with the problems derived from the use of domestic robots and connected devices Students of artificial intelligence machine learning robotics big data and other branches of digital technologies will find ideas and arguments to apply their disciplines to the home and participate fruitfully in forums where digital technologies are built and negotiated in the home Experts from various disciplines psychologists and sociologists philosophers epistemologists and ethicists economists engineers architects urban planners and designers and so on and also those interested in developing policies for the home and family will find this book contains well founded and useful ideas to focus their work

Urban Planning in North Africa Carlos Nunes Silva, 2016-07-07 There has been relatively little written on the history of urban planning in North Africa despite the wealth of towns and cities in this region which date back to Antiquity The book explores the history of urban planning in North Africa and the challenges confronting contemporary urban planning in Algeria Egypt Libya Morocco and Tunisia It examines the transnational flow of planning ideas during the colonial period namely through the French British and Italian colonial presence and the Portuguese and Spanish influences as well and discusses key challenges currently confronting urban planning in the major urban centers in the region The fifteen chapters that constitute the book offer an informed analysis of the history of urban planning in North Africa covering the pre colonial colonial and post colonial periods People, Care and Work in the Home Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, Antonio Argandoña, 2020-05-18

Introducing novel theoretical empirical and practical investigations with case studies from UK Europe South America and South East Asia the book offers a novel global outlook on how contemporary homes are facing genuine challenges from operational economic spatial social and wellbeing perspectives The changing demographics of our modern society have inevitably impacted the dynamics and relationships within the home from being personal and private to that of multiple work relationships domestic work care for older people or supporting people with special needs Whilst the home is a concept universally experienced permeating every aspect of our lives it remains an entity whose influence on health and wellbeing is poorly understood This book brings together 17 different contributions from scholars researchers and practitioners from different disciplinary and professional backgrounds including three feature articles by leading figures such as Lord Best and Baroness Hollins The chapters are organised within three parts that look at the triangle of people work care in the home At a time when homes are increasingly becoming local hubs for care and wellbeing this volume is a critical and useful addition to current literature in the social sciences humanities economics culture care and wellbeing in the domestic sphere The Architecture of Grosvenor Atterbury Peter Pennoyer, Anne Walker, 2009-07-28

The first close look at an innovative architect and inventor who held that traditional styles could be successfully adapted for modern times In the final decade of the nineteenth century and the early twentieth century the United States experienced exponential growth and a flourishing economy and with it a building boom Grosvenor Atterbury 1869 1956 produced more than one hundred major projects including an array of grand mansions picturesque estates informal summer cottages and farm groups However it was his role as town planner and civic leader and his work to create model tenements hospitals workers housing and town plans for which he is most celebrated His Forest Hills Gardens designed in association with the Olmsted Brothers is lauded as one of the most highly significant community planning projects of its time As an inventor Atterbury was responsible for one of the country's first low cost prefabricated concrete construction systems introducing beauty and inexpensive good design into the lives of the working classes The Architecture of Grosvenor Atterbury is the first book to showcase the rich and varied repertoire of this prolific architect whose career spanned six decades and whose work affected the course of American architecture planning and construction Illustrated with Jonathan Wallen's stunning color photographs and over 250 historic drawings plans and photographs it also includes a catalogue raisonné and an employee roster It is the definitive source on an architect who made an indelible imprint on the American landscape Putting Tradition into Practice: Heritage, Place and Design Giuseppe Amoroso, 2017-07-19

This book gathers more than 150 peer reviewed papers presented at the 5th INTBAU International Annual Event held in Milan Italy in July 2017 The book represents an invaluable and up to date international exchange of research case studies and best practice to confront the challenges of designing places building cultural landscapes and enabling the development of communities The papers investigate methodologies of representation communication and valorization of historic urban landscapes and cultural heritage monitoring conservation management cultural issues in heritage assessment placemaking and local identity enhancement as well as reconstruction of settlements affected by disasters With contributions from leading experts including university researchers professionals and policy makers the book addresses all who seek to understand and address the challenges faced in the protection and enhancement of the heritage that has been created
