Looking for Ashley: Re-reading What the Smith Case Reveals about the Governance of Girls, Mothers and Families in Canada Jaremkow Rebecca Bromwich, 2015-10-01 The 2007 death by self-induced strangulation in prison of nineteen year old inmate Ashley Smith drew a great deal of public attention The case gave rise to a shocking verdict of homicide in the 2013 inquest into the cause of her death In this book I inquire into questions about what social problem or phenomenon Ashley Smith is a case and what governmental work is done by prevalent constructions of her as an exemplar This book performs a critical discourse analysis of figures of Ashley Smith that emerge in her case looking at those representations as technologies of governance It argues that the Smith case is read most accurately not as an isolated system failure but an extreme result of routine everyday brutality of a society and bureaucracies gradual necropolitical successes It critically analyzes how representations of Ashley in the case leave intact and even reinforce logics and systems governing gender motherhood security risk race thinking and exclusion in power and knowledge that make it predictable for similar deaths in prison to recur It argues that in the logics underlying constructions through which Ashley Smith was celebrityized and sacralized mothers girls and women's subjectivities and agencies are made unknowable and even unthinkable while the racialized social boundaries of a white settler society are maintained This book attempts to intervene in those logics to help make alternative outcomes possible and to take steps towards questioning the raced classed and heteronormative boundaries of commonly assumed figures of the noble victim good girl and good mother while supporting the agencies of adolescent girls in actively playing a part in the authoring of their lives

Mano a Mano--Quote, Unquote Dave Save, 2008-03 Mano a Mano is a satirical story based on historical events in Zimbabwe when Robert Gabriel Mugabe transformed himself from the much loved Prime Minister to a controversial polarizing figure Millions of people have left Zimbabwe due to horrific economic times and widespread starvation The villagers of Maze Webb who remain behind have no choice but to rely on themselves in their fight for real independence and soon discover that a good beginning does not guarantee a happy ending Through sweat and blood they build a school hoping to secure a bright future for their children but it soon becomes clear that the headmaster has other ideas The book is divided into two parts the first is a fictionalized account of true events encompassing comprehensive descriptions of the narrator's life his country and his people The second part weaves a variety of stories into one creating a dialogue that provides an introspective look into the ways and customs of a culture across the world This insightful novel is not just about an African country but about the strong and beautiful people who live within its borders and struggle to survive despite the appalling and dangerous conditions that surround them each day

Counsel With Confidence Joel James, 2018-10-01 When you were learning to ride a bicycle the hardest part was the first few pedal strokes those wobbly seconds before you built up enough momentum to maintain your balance A generous push from your dad was just what you needed to avoid ending up in a heap of elbows knees handlebars and spokes Counseling is similar Sometimes you need something to give you some momentum something to give you the confidence that you're on the right track If you've ever felt like that this book is for you Counsel With Confidence is a book to guide counselors and church leaders in being well informed and to help them bring about heart based change in the lives of the people they counsel through the right application of Scripture

African Youth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture Vivian Yenika-Agbaw, Linda Mhando, 2014-01-21 This book explores how African youth are depicted in contemporary literature and popular culture and discusses the different ways by which they attempt to construct personal and cultural identities through popular culture and social media outlets The contributors approach the subject from an interdisciplinary perspective looking at images in children's and adolescent literature from Africa and the African diaspora from Nollywood and Hollywood movies from popular magazines and from youth cultures encountered directly through field experiences The findings reveal that there are many stereotypes about Africa African youth and black cultures and that African youth are aware of these Since they juggle multiple identities shaped by their ethnicities race and religion it is often a challenge for them to define themselves As they also share a global youth culture that transcends these cultural markers some take advantage of media outlets to voice their concerns and participate in political struggles Others simply use these to promote their personal interests Contributors ponder the challenges involved in constructing unique identities offering ideas on how African youth are doing so successfully or not in different parts of the continent and the African diaspora and thus offer new possibilities for youth studies
