teaching what needs to be understood instead of known memorized like teaching why addition problems until the algorithm they are using supposedly becomes cemented in their brains By teaching the essence of arithmetic in sensible ways and appealing to children's love of games songs and movement he's proven that virtually ALL children can learn arithmetic the foundation of algebra higher mathematics science technology and more even music When children understand arithmetic they own it It's no longer just their teacher's math It's their math America's children are being held back in math because of how arithmetic is drug out in elementary school Virtually every textbook based elementary school math program in use today is mind numbing in its repetitiveness from grade to grade The reason for the redundancy is to slow down the teaching of arithmetic so it can be memorized Research shows that the human brain is not designed to remember things learned by rote when no longer practiced That's acknowledged in the use it or lose it aphorism that states the obvious that we remember what we use and forget what we don't You know that to be true if you've ever forgotten things you once knew as well as your own name things like an old address or a license plate number Every child can understand base ten numeration when taught hands on with arithmetic blocks Thereby every child can understand base ten arithmetic And every child can learn how to count out the number facts like $5 \times 7 = 12$, $17 \times 8 = 96$, $X \times 7 = 42$ and $56 \times 7 = 8$ and if they forget one never has to guess and risk ridicule and bad grades if they guess wrong What matters in teaching arithmetic is not how much a child can remember but how much they can figure out if when they forget

Developing Mathematical Reasoning Pamela Weber Harris, 2025-02-18 Math is not rote memorizable Math is not random guessable Math is figure out able Author Pam Harris argues that teaching real math math that is free of distortions will reach more students more effectively and result in deeper understanding and longer retention This book is about teaching undistorted math using the kinds of mental reasoning that mathematicians do Memorization tricks and algorithms meant to make math easier are full of traps that sacrifice long term student growth for short lived gains Students and teachers alike have been led to believe that they've learned more and more math but in reality their brains never get any stronger Using these tricks may make facts easier to memorize in isolation but that very disconnect distorts the reality of math The mountain of trivia piles up until students hit a breaking point Humanity's most powerful system of understanding organizing and making an impact on the world becomes a soul draining exercise in confusion chaos and lost opportunities Developing Mathematical Reasoning Avoiding the Trap of Algorithms emphasizes the importance of teaching students increasingly sophisticated mathematical reasoning and understanding underlying concepts rather than relying on a set rule for solving problems This book illuminates a hierarchy of mathematical reasoning to help teachers guide students through various domains of math development from basic counting and adding to more complex proportional and functional reasoning Everyone is capable of understanding and doing real math This book Highlights the important mathematical relationships strategies and models for students to develop Offers personal stories reflection sections and extensive practical exercises for easy implementation Includes real math a lot of it to provide teachers with examples they can put to use in their classrooms immediately This book is a valuable resource for educators looking to reach more students by building a strong foundation of mathematical thinking in their students By addressing common misconceptions about math and providing practical strategies for teaching real math this book shows that everyone can use the mathematical relationships they already know to reason about new relationships In other words everyone can math
