Sexual Bullying Neil Duncan,2012-10-12 Bullying is one of the most destructive but common social practices that young people experience in schools and one of the most difficult for teachers to manage successfully Sexual bullying is even more difficult to deal with Most adults can recall the important part sexual reputation played in the hierarchies of peer group popularity during secondary schooling The significance of this formative period of our sexual identities seems obvious but is largely ignored by education policy makers and rarely appears in staff training programmes This book draws together a number of theories on gender adolescent behaviour and schooling to examine social interactions in four comprehensive schools The original research underpinning this book comprises of group and individual interviews with the pupils case studies and classroom practitioner observations over a seven year period This book will stimulate interest amongst all concerned with pupil welfare and social change

A Feminist Critique of Education Christine Skelton,Becky Francis,2005 Compiled by the current editors of the journal Gender Education this new book maps the development of thinking in gender and education over the last fifteen years featuring groundbreaking articles from leading authors in the field Pediatric Neuropsychology Case Studies Jennifer Niskala Apps, Robert F. Newby, Laura Weiss Roberts, 2008-12-23 In the recent literature the most influential case study books in neuropsychology are in the adult realm Pediatric neuropsychology is a rapidly developing field with increasingly greater influence in the assessment diagnosis early identification and treatment of childhood illnesses This book will provide the first centralized comprehensive resource for case studies in pediatric neuropsychology Not only will this supply a valuable compilation for the growing numbers of professionals in this field but will also serve as an innovative and appealing resource for therapists teachers and others interested in child development This book will be structured in such a way that readers can easily access individual cases of interest as well as related areas of dysfunction Section breakdowns will be provided in order to highlight the combined focus of case presentations in acquired neuropsychological dysfunction as well as developmental disorders Each section will begin with an introductory chapter highlighting the salient feature of the concept and providing brief up to date reviews of the current research and theories Within each global section individual case studies will serve as stand alone chapters Contributing authors will be provided extensive guidance and coaching with regards to the standard format and information to be included in each chapter The first section of this book will present cases involving neurological disorders The intention of this section is to provide not only classic examples of neurological dysfunction in children but also to provide interesting cases of unique or remarkable presentations The second section will present an accumulation of cases representing both common and progressive conceptualizations of developmental disabilities Section three has been designed to highlight cases which often present complex issues to neuropsychologists The case examples in this section will highlight the use of alternative treatments pathologies that are often a source of inquiry and situations that lack the more rigorous scientific data often utilized in other diagnostic procedures Additionally this section may include chapters on common differential diagnosis dilemmas in clinical practice Often multifaceted and even contradictory evidence can arise during evaluations resulting in complex or problematic situations for the clinician Such examples are difficult by their nature to forecast but rather would be added during the book s development as they occur Statistical Analysis for Education and Psychology Researchers Ian Peers, 2006-02-27 Basic statistical concepts such as probability estimation and inference and their role in research design and analysis are presented in this volume The author demonstrates which statistical test to use in given circumstances and how to use it drawing on data from psychology and education Written for those without a strong mathematical background the book s examples can be worked using a pocket calculator Real life data are analyzed using statistical software SAS output is interpreted and a decision chart is presented which summarizes considerations when choosing a statistical test

Agriculture and the Environment Ernst Lutz, 1998-01-01 Agriculture in developing countries has been remarkably productive during the last few decades however the production levels were achieved at the cost of placing more stress on natural resources and the environment This volume brings together state of the art applied practical research related to agriculture development and the environment in the developing world It attempts to distill current knowledge and to summarize it in readable form for development practitioners Where possible authors use specific examples to indicate which approaches have worked and which have not under which conditions and why Smart and Sassy Joyce West Stevens,2002-02-28 Empirically based the daily experience of adolescent black females is explicated within an explanatory model of social context and developmental theory The author argues that adolescence must be seen from strengths and health perspectives Self relatedness or intersubjectivity expressed in assertion empathy and recognition is the core matrix of development where social contextual responses can be adaptive or maladaptive California. Court of Appeal (4th Appellate District). Division 2. Records and Briefs California (State)., Citizenship and Religion Maurice Blanc,Julia Droeber,Tom Storrie,2020-12-16 This book explores the relationship between religion and citizenship from a culturally diverse group of contributors in the context of the developing tendency towards fundamentalist and conflicting religious beliefs in European North African and Middle Eastern societies The chapters provide an alternative narrative of the role of religion presenting diverse lived shades of citizenship as well as accounting for issues of gender equality minority rights violence identity education and secularisation As the renewed role of religious institutions is increasing in Europe and elsewhere the contributors interrogate the experience of belonging public policy welfare services and religious education highlighting how cooperation between citizenship and religion is necessary in a democratic regime The research will be of interest to students and scholars across sociology international relations and religious studies The Christian Union Henry Ward Beecher,1883 Vocational Training Gilles Laflamme,Université Laval. Département des relations industrielles,International Labour Office. Training Department,1993 Resources in Education ,1975 Index to Theses with Abstracts Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards ,2008 Theses on any subject submitted by the academic libraries in the UK and Ireland Vanity Fair ,1928 Language and Cultural Practices in Communities and Schools Inmaculada M. García-Sánchez,Marjorie Faulstich Orellana,2019-09-09 Drawing on sociocultural theories of learning this book examines how the everyday language practices and cultural funds of knowledge of youth from non dominant or minoritized groups can be used as centerpoints for classroom learning in ways that help all students both to sustain and expand their cultural and linguistic repertoires while developing skills that are valued in formal schooling Bringing together a group of ethnographically grounded scholars working in diverse local contexts this volume identifies how these language practices and cultural funds of knowledge can be used as generative points of continuity and productively expanded on in schools for successful and inclusive learning Ideal for students and researchers in teaching learning language education literacy and multicultural education as well as teachers at all stages of their career this book contributes to research on culturally and linguistically sustaining practices by offering original teaching methods and a range of ways of connecting cultural competencies to learning across subject matters and disciplines

Gender and Nonverbal Behavior C. Mayo, N. M. Henley, 2012-12-06 This book addresses two lively and active research communities those concerned with issues of gender and those dealing with nonverbal behavior The wide range of professional and popular interest in both these topics convinced us that presentations of current work by researchers who bring these two areas of research together would prove stimulating These presentations not only address the state of current work on gender and nonverbal behavior but also suggest new avenues of investigation for those interested primarily in either topic In other words the questions that nonverbal communication researchers address when considering gender bring new directions to gender related research and a like effect can be expected when the questions raised in gender studies are applied to research in nonverbal behavior Dispersion of ideas may take another form as well Both gender and nonverbal behavior research are notably interdisciplinary Perhaps because of their pervasive nature both topics have attracted the attention of a diversity of scholars Most of the contributions in the present volume are by psychologists but their intended audience is broad Linguists sociologists and anthropologists are among those who share similar research interests Moreover the ideas presented here are of interest to practitioners as well as scholars From corporations to clinics people are interested in the subtle expression and negotiation of sex roles through non verbal communication

Writing = Learning Brenton Doecke, Graham Parr, 2005 Affirming the professional knowledge practice and engagement of teachers in the face of recurring media attacks on their profession this examination of the role of writing in various teaching and learning contexts by English teachers provides richly reflective perspectives on the relationship between the writing and learning of both students and professionals
